Grass Lake School Dist. 36 board member Randy Mathias kisses a baby pig, on loan from Patch 22 in Wadsworth, as teacher's aide Rebecca Garretson looks on. Grass Lake board member kisses pig Puckering up to a portly pig may not seem like a just reward to some, but the students at Grass Lake School Dist. 36 were glad to receive theirs at an all school assembly when board of education member Randy Mathias made good on a promise he made at the beginning of the school year.

Mathias made a deal that he'd kiss a pig if the whole school earned 10,000 points in its new reading program the Accelerated Reader. To earn the points, students had to read books and take tests on what they had read.

"The school's total population is 288," said Rebecca Garretson, a preschool and LD aid at the school. "They had to work really hard to earn all of those points in the reading program."

The points are used to measure achievement both individually and collectively.

Ivy Sitkowski and Mary Tyner

(teachers at the school) started the program," said Garretson. "It gets the students very enthusiastic about reading."

According to Garretson, the administration brought out a stuffed pig first to get things "riled up" and raise anticipation for the pig-kissing event. The stuffed pig was then raffled off to one of the students to take home as a souvenir.

The real pig was a 30-pound baby provided by Patch 22 in Wadsworth.

Crane supports federal funds for Metra projects

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

U.S. Rep. Philip Crane (R-Wauconda) joined Chicago area Congressional delegation members in sending a letter to the chairman and ranking member of the House Appropriations Subcommittee requesting $100 million in funding for Metra projects in the 2002 House Transportation Appropriations Bill. Included in the request is funding for the North Central line double tracking project that runs from Franklin Park through Cook and Lake counties to Antioch.

The letter signed by Crane requested that the 2002 Transportation Appropriations bill include funding for Metra.

If granted, the funds will be used to continue work on the North Central, Union Pacific West and the South West lines. These lines are in areas described in the letter as experiencing "surging growth."

The 2002 House Appropriations Bill will be signed by the president in September. The 2002 fiscal year begins on Oct. 1, 2001.

"It should be apparent by this summer if the Metra funding will be included in the bill," said Bryce Dustman, a spokesman from Crane's office. "Once it goes through subcommittee, we'll have a pretty good idea."

Village moves to combine Deercrest, Neumann suits

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"The lawsuit is still in the motions stage," said village attorney Ken Clark of the suit brought against the Village of Antioch by Neumann Homes. "We're hoping to consolidate it with the Deercrest case."

Clark said, "The village denied any culpability or responsibility, but I like to get into paraphrasing. It takes things out of context."

Ken Neumann, president of Neumann Homes said, "We're in the discovery process, and we're proceeding aggressively."

The suit that was filed on Jan. 29 lists Bill and Peter Anest, and Andrew Lynch the independent executor of the Homer White estate as well as Neumann Homes, Inc. as the plaintiffs against the village of Antioch. In short, the suit contends that the village has not abided by provisions of the settlement agreement it entered into on Oct. 7, 1992 with Bill and Peter Anest to dismiss the disconnection case (to de-annex the property from the village).

The lawsuit seeks both mandamus and damages in the five counts filed against the village that include issues of procedural due process, equal protection and unconstitutional conditions (taking of property).

New judge assigned in Deercrest vs. Antioch

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Several changes have been in the case filed by Otto Sprenger and the limited liability company (LLC) Deercrest against the Village of Antioch, Lake County, and Kenneth Glick since it was first filed on Sept. 6, 2000.

The case was being heard by Judge Wallace Dunn, but standard practice in the Lake County Courts reassigned judges earlier this year. Judge John Goshgarian has replaced Dunn.

Goshgarian ruled against the county's motion to dismiss on March 20. Additionally, the judge permitted Glick's name to be dropped from the suit as he has since sold the property that contained the necessary easements in question to connect the Northwest Sewerage System to the Deercrest property to the Lake County Forest Preserves.

The Deercrest suit has been amended and now names the Lake County Forest Preserves.

Marc Neuman, a participant in Deercrest, LLC, said, "They bought the property with full knowledge of our lawsuit. Additionally, all county board members also serve on the Forest Preserve board and should be well informed." To Neuman's knowledge, the Lake County Forest Preserves have not yet responded.

Other amendments include seeking damages from the Village of Antioch that had not been sought previously.

Neuman said no future court dates have been set. "We're going through discovery," he said. "We're going to stay after this. As quickly as the county provides documents, we will analyze them."

He added, "We're looking back 7-8 years. There is lots of documentation that relates to the initial special service area in 1994."

Witnesses are also being deposed including Martin Galantha, head of the public works department for Lake County.

The objective of the suit is to have the Northwest Sewerage System attach to the Sprenger/Deercrest property so that the land can be developed under the PUD (planned unit development) approved by the Village of Antioch.

Work begins on new trails, public areas

Work to complete 11.5 additional miles of trails and create new public access areas will begin at several Forest Preserves throughout Lake County, following action taken by the Lake County Forest Preserve Board of Commissioners.

The Forest Preserve Board awarded five contracts totaling over $3.1 million for work scheduled to begin this spring on the Des Plaines River Trail, Millennium Trail, Middlefork Savanna, Fort Sheridan and Bonner Farm.

By next winter, a new 4-mile section of the Des Plaines River Trail (DPRT) is expected to open from Washington St. to Independence Grove Forest Preserve. This critical Gurnee to Libertyville link will join the existing northern and southern sections of the DPRT. The Board awarded the contract for improvements along this section of the DPRT to Kovilic Construction Company of Franklin Park. Other improvements include boardwalks, bridges and underpasses at Rte. 120 and I-94. The DPRT winds along the river from the Wisconsin state line to Lake Cook Rd. and connects 10 Forest Preserves. Twenty-five of the planned 33 miles are in place.

The Forest Preserve is also taking steps to develop a new 35-mile Millennium Trail and Greenway to connect central, western and northern Lake County communities and Forest Preserves. This spring, D.L. Franzen Construction of McHenry, will begin work on a 3-mile section of the Millennium Trail from the intersection of Rte. 176 and Hawley Rd. to Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda. Other public access improvements along the trail route include a boardwalk and a parking area, and should be completed in fall 2001.

When complete the Millennium Trail will connect to the DPRT in Libertyville and run west through Mundelein to Lakewood Forest Preserve in Wauconda, then north to Singing Hills near Vojo, to the Round Lake area, and east to Grayslake and Lindenhurst before possibly reconnecting to the northern section of the DPRT in Wadsworth.

Construction of a new 4.5 mile trail with bridges and boardwalks at Middlefork Savanna Forest Preserve near Lake Forest is scheduled to begin soon, along with riverbank, wetland and savanna restoration. Land and Lakes Company of Park Ridge, was awarded the contract for improvements at Middlefork. completion is anticipated by fall 2001.

Village board approves concept of skate park

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

The board of trustees of the Village of Antioch approved the Park Improvement Plan for 2001 at the regular meeting. The 2-3 year plan lists the areas needing improvements and includes updates that Laurie Stahl, director of the parks and recreation department, and the park board would like to see implemented including a skate park that is highly sought after by teenage residents.

Trustee Dorothy Larson explained, "It's in our budget. Some of the things have been brought forward from the previous year's plan."

For discussion sake, the plan proposed converting some little used basketball courts into the skate park. Trustee Barbara Porch questioned if this was a good idea on several levels, not the least of which was liability. Mayor Marilyn Shineflug responded, "My understanding is that signage is key."

Trustee Larry Hanson offered that more of Antioch's youth would make use of a skate park than the basketball courts in question.

Larson added, "This isn't carved in stone...What I understand is that they (the park board) want to get started on a skate park."

"I think it's okay to go ahead with the 'concept' of a skate park," said Shineflug. "We took this under consideration when the group came in a year or a year and a half ago."

Directed to Porch, Larson said, "If you have a concern over this location, talk to Laurie (Stahl) - she's always looking for input."

ACHS fighting state over exam

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"We are the only high school in the state that has asked for a waiver so that we would not have to be included (in the newly mandated ACT college entrance exam)," said Antioch Community High School (ACHS) Dist. 117 Supt. Dennis Hockney. "We use a different test, the CTPIII (developed by the same company that developed the SAT), that tracks students over their four-year high school experience. It's a better test for assessing high school ability."

Hockney explained that the college entrance exam is better left for the purpose it was designed: to predict college success. "If we wait to test students until they've been here three full years, we've missed our opportunity to address specific needs," said Hockney. "Our tests cover all of the same information, but we test students over the four years."

Hockney said the request for the waiver was sent to Springfield, but that it has not gone before the General Assembly yet. He said, "We want to go to Springfield to be able to testify before the General Assembly."

The school is seeking a five-year waiver from the state's mandate, the maximum allowed.

"This testing is very disruptive," said Hockney. "We'll have about 25 minutes to get some 500 students situated in assigned seating to begin the testing."

ACT rules require rigid testing protocols. There must be one proctor for every 25 students. A minimum distance of 3 feet between students must be maintained. The testing area is to be quiet and free of distractions such as class bells and lockers slamming shut.

The testing, that takes place over

Syd Klocke, assistant principal in charge of curriculum development at Antioch Community High School, measures the distance between tables being set up for the state's merged Prairie State Achievement Exam and the traditional ACT college entrance exam to be given to all high school juniors.—Photo by Julie Murphy.

two days, will occur in the high school's two gymnasiums. The schools sound system and bells can be turned off in this portion of the school. This prevents the school from having to cancel classes for the other students.

"There will be no physical education classes since we are using both gymnasiums," said Hockney. "Classes that have more than juniors in them will be missing students, and the juniors that are testing will be missing that instruction."

Two hundred and sixty tables had to be rented to maintain the minimum distance between students, with only two students able to sit at each table. Juniors will miss two days of instruction for the test, and, according to assistant principal Syd

Klocke, have missed a period and one-half of social studies to fill out information on their answer sheets.

"The ACT wants all sorts of personal information about the students on their answer sheets, and it has to be filled out before the testing begins," said Klocke. "We've had to bring in our students who are in other programs like at Allendale to have them fill out these sheets."

The students will be able to use this ACT score as they would any other non-mandated ACT test score to fulfill college entrance requirements.

"This is the first time any state has done this," said Hockney. "I think what we'll see is that schools' averages (for this test) will go down because there will be students taking it who otherwise wouldn't have."

Historial society sets closing on property purchase

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

"We should be able to close on the rectory property on the corner on Friday (April 27)," said Lakes Region Historical Society president Bob Lindblad. "There had been some legal problems that have been worked out, so we should be fine."

Lindblad said construction won't be able to start until June and for that reason will continue to allow to the Episcopal Church to meet as they have been.

"We hired Legat Architects, and they are really doing a wonderful job," said Lindblad. "Our architect lives on Grass Lake Rd., so it's nice that she's local."

Both the combined planning and zoning board and the board of directors of the Village of Antioch approved changing the property zoning from residential to B-2 (business). Director of planning and zoning Bob Silhan noted that churches are allowed to be on residential property, but the zoning was necessary for the museum. The Lasco property was already zoned B-2.

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug said, "This is a wonderful, wonderful project and I hope the new administration will continue to work with the historical society on this."

Either the Lasco house or the rectory building will be torn down to make way for a 30-plus-space parking lot with handicapped accessibility.

"We still plan to put in a small park on one of the lots and dedicate it to Dolly Spiering," said Lindblad. "The building will be an outstanding fixture by itself, I think, and having a park on one side will enhance that."

The renderings of the proposed rehabilitation of the church are on display at the school museum on Main St.

Plant a tree for Arbor Day

The local nurseries and greenhouses have all confirmed that this is the perfect time of year to go out and plant a tree.

If you weren't fortunate enough to get your request in to the parks department to receive five free seedlings, consider buying a small tree to plant in the yard. Just remember what Dick Hautzinger, owner of Floral Acres, said: "Put a $1 shrub in a $5 hole. In other words, prepare the soil with a lot of amendments and that it will be there forever."

My home campaign for the year is quit buying live Christmas trees and plant an evergreen in the yard instead. The cost for the tree is about the same whether it's bought alive or dead, and we can always put lights and inexpensive ornaments on a tree outside.

In an 1887 address, J. Sterling Morton said, "Each generation takes the earth as trustees. We ought to bequeath to posterity as many forests and orchards as we have exhausted and consumed." Morton, who had moved to Nebraska from Detroit in 1854, initiated the first Arbor Day in 1872.

OUR TOWN

He was a journalist turned editor of Nebraska's first newspaper, and used the newspaper as a forum to spread both agricultural information and his enthusiasm for trees. He was not the only pioneer who missed the trees of his previous home.

Morton used his increased prominence to stress the importance of trees as windbreaks to keep the soil in place, for shade from the hot sun and for fuel and building material. He encouraged civic organizations as well as individuals to plant trees.

On Jan. 4, 1872, as secretary of the Nebraska Territory, Morton proposed a tree-planting holiday at the State Board of Agriculture. The date was set for April 10, 1872.

It was estimated that more than 1 million trees were planted on that first Arbor Day.

Morton's birthday, April 22, was selected as the date for the permanent observance when Arbor Day was named a legal holiday in Nebraska.

Today the most common date for the state observances is the last Friday in April, and several U.S. presidents have proclaimed a national Arbor Day on that date. There are some states, however, that choose times that coincide with best tree planting weather, and it may fall as early as February in the south and as late as May in the far north.

Rotary raffles Waverunner for summer fun fundraiser

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Summer fun can be enhanced on the Yamaha XLT1200 Waverunner being raffled off by the Antioch Rotary Club for its fifth annual Summer Fun Raffle.

"This year we decided to raffle a Waverunner instead of the Harley we've done in the past to try to get more people involved with the raffle," said Rotarian Bob Schneider. "In the past we sold 400 tickets for $50, but this year we will be selling 1,000 tickets for $20."

The raffle works on a 50/50 principle: 50 percent of the proceeds are used to cover the cost of the machine, and the other 50 percent will be used to support the Rotary Club's many philanthropic deeds.

Schneider said, "We give hundreds of thousands of dollars to the community and have fun doing it." In the past, the Antioch Rotary Club has supported both girl and boy scouts, helps local schools and churches Antioch and the surrounding area, has donated money to the Antioch Rescue Squad and helped financially with Centennial Playground and the William Brook Memorial Wetland and Entertainment Center.

"We also have some international projects," Schneider added. "We've given relief for a soup kitchen in the Philippines, and have given yearly college scholarships there as well."

Arrangements for the Waverunner are being made courtesy of Nielsen Enterprises in Lake Villa. "Nielsen's is really helping out by taking care of the registration and processing fees so that all the winner will have to do is pay the income tax on the prize and wheel it off the lot," said Schneider.

This Waverunner model is reputed to be one of the best. It sits three people, and comes complete with a trailer. It can be seen at the State Bank of The Lakes at 440 Lake St., and will be moved around Antioch for special events such as the Fourth of July celebration.

The drawing will be held on July 23 at the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry MegaFest. Tickets can be purchased through any Rotarian, the First National Bank-Employee Owned, State Bank of The Lakes, at the Advertiser or by calling Schneider at 395-4444.

ANTIOCH

DUI

Darwin D. DeLacy, 37, of 605 Cummings Ave. in Waukegan, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on April 22 at 10:26 p.m. on North Ave. at Hawthorne.

Police observed a vehicle cross the yellow centerline and then drive back onto the gravel shoulder of the road.

When stopped, DeLacy was able to provide a valid driver's license and proof of insurance. While talking to him, police noticed DeLacy was not wearing a seatbelt and the strong odor of alcoholic beverage was detected on his breath.

DeLacy was unable to successfully perform the field sobriety tests requested of him.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he agreed a breath test resulting in a .21 blood alcohol concentration. DeLacy was put through booking procedures and issued citations for improper lane usage, DUI, and failure to wear a seatbelt.

He was released on personal recognition pending his June 5 court date.

John H. Robinson, 36, of 132 Keith St. in Waukegan, was arrested for driving under the influence of alcohol on April 18 at 12:07 a.m. on Rte. 173 west of Crawford Rd.

Police observed a vehicle weaving within its lane of traffic and then cross the fogline and then centerline.

When police requested Robinson's driver's license and proof of insurance, Robinson told the officer he had no insurance. During their conversation, police smelled the strong odor of alcoholic beverage on Robinson's breath.

Robinson was unable to successfully perform field sobriety tests. He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he refused all chemical testing. He was put through booking procedures and issued citations for improper lane usage, operating an uninsured vehicle and failure to secure new registration.

He was released on bond pending his May 8 court date.

Police locked his vehicle at 61 mph in a 30-mph zone.

The vehicle parked in the drive of 587 Main St. and the driver exited. Taylor first told police he was not the driver, but then admitted he was and said his Iowa driver's license was suspended.

Police checked his identifiers through LEADS/SOS and confirmed he did not have a valid driver's license.

Taylor was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for speeding and no valid driver's license.

He was released on bond pending his court date.

Jesus S. Vega, 25, of 9717 Reese Rd. in Harvard, was arrested for driving with no valid driver's license on April 20 at 4:40 p.m. on Rte. 173 at what is known as the Pedersen property.

Police observed his vehicle cross the fog line. The car behind Vega's signaled police by flashing its bright lights and pointing to the offender's vehicle. The officer turned around, but the complainant did not stop.

Police advised Vega of the reason for the stop. The scent of alcoholic beverage was not detected on Vega and it was determined he was sober.

The officer requested Vega's driver's license and proof of insurance. Vega had neither.

Vega's identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC and he came back with no record on file.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for improper lane usage, operating an uninsured vehicle and no valid driver's license.

Police locked his vehicle traveling at 43 mph in a posted 25-mph zone.

When stopped, Bell provided a valid insurance card and an Illinois identification card. His identifiers were checked through LEADS/NCIC and determined he was suspended.

He was arrested and transported to the Antioch Police Dept. where he was put through booking procedures and issued citations for speeding and driving while suspended.

Bell was released on signature bond pending his May 23 court date.

Robert A. Wagner, 36, of 26311 103rd St. in Trevor, Wis., was arrested for driving with a suspended driver's license on April 18 at 5:04 p.m. at the intersection of Rte. 83 and Rte. 173.

Board supports plan to improve service

Mayor Marilyn Shineflug received a letter from Secretary of State Jesse White asking for support of a plan to increase the level of services in Lake County.

The mayor clarified that the support requested is not financial, before the board of directors voted in favor of the plan.

The three-year plan would add an additional driver's license facility in Lake County (there are currently three: Deerfield, Libertyville and Waukegan), and calls for the purchase of 100 new self-service machines to handle simple transactions such as sticker purchases.

Woman's club supports library

Mary Beth Walsh, chairwoman of the Antioch Woman's Club community improvement project is asking club members to volunteer their time selling soft drinks at the MegaFest to raise money to help furnish the new library addition under works.

In her letter to the membership via the newsletter she said, "The Antioch Woman's Club was one of the original founders of the Antioch Library. This is an opportunity to continue and renew our support..."

She said the Village of Antioch will give the club $500 to sell soft drinks and notes that the goal is $2,000.

Antioch Jaycees adopt a highway

The Antioch Jaycees will be cleaning up along Tiffany and Trevor roads on May 5 from 8 a.m. - noon as sponsor of the "Adopt a Highway" program.

Mike Gliniewicz, president of the Antioch Jaycees, wrote a letter requesting that the group be allowed to borrow some of the village's equipment, and asked if the village would supply the garbage bags.

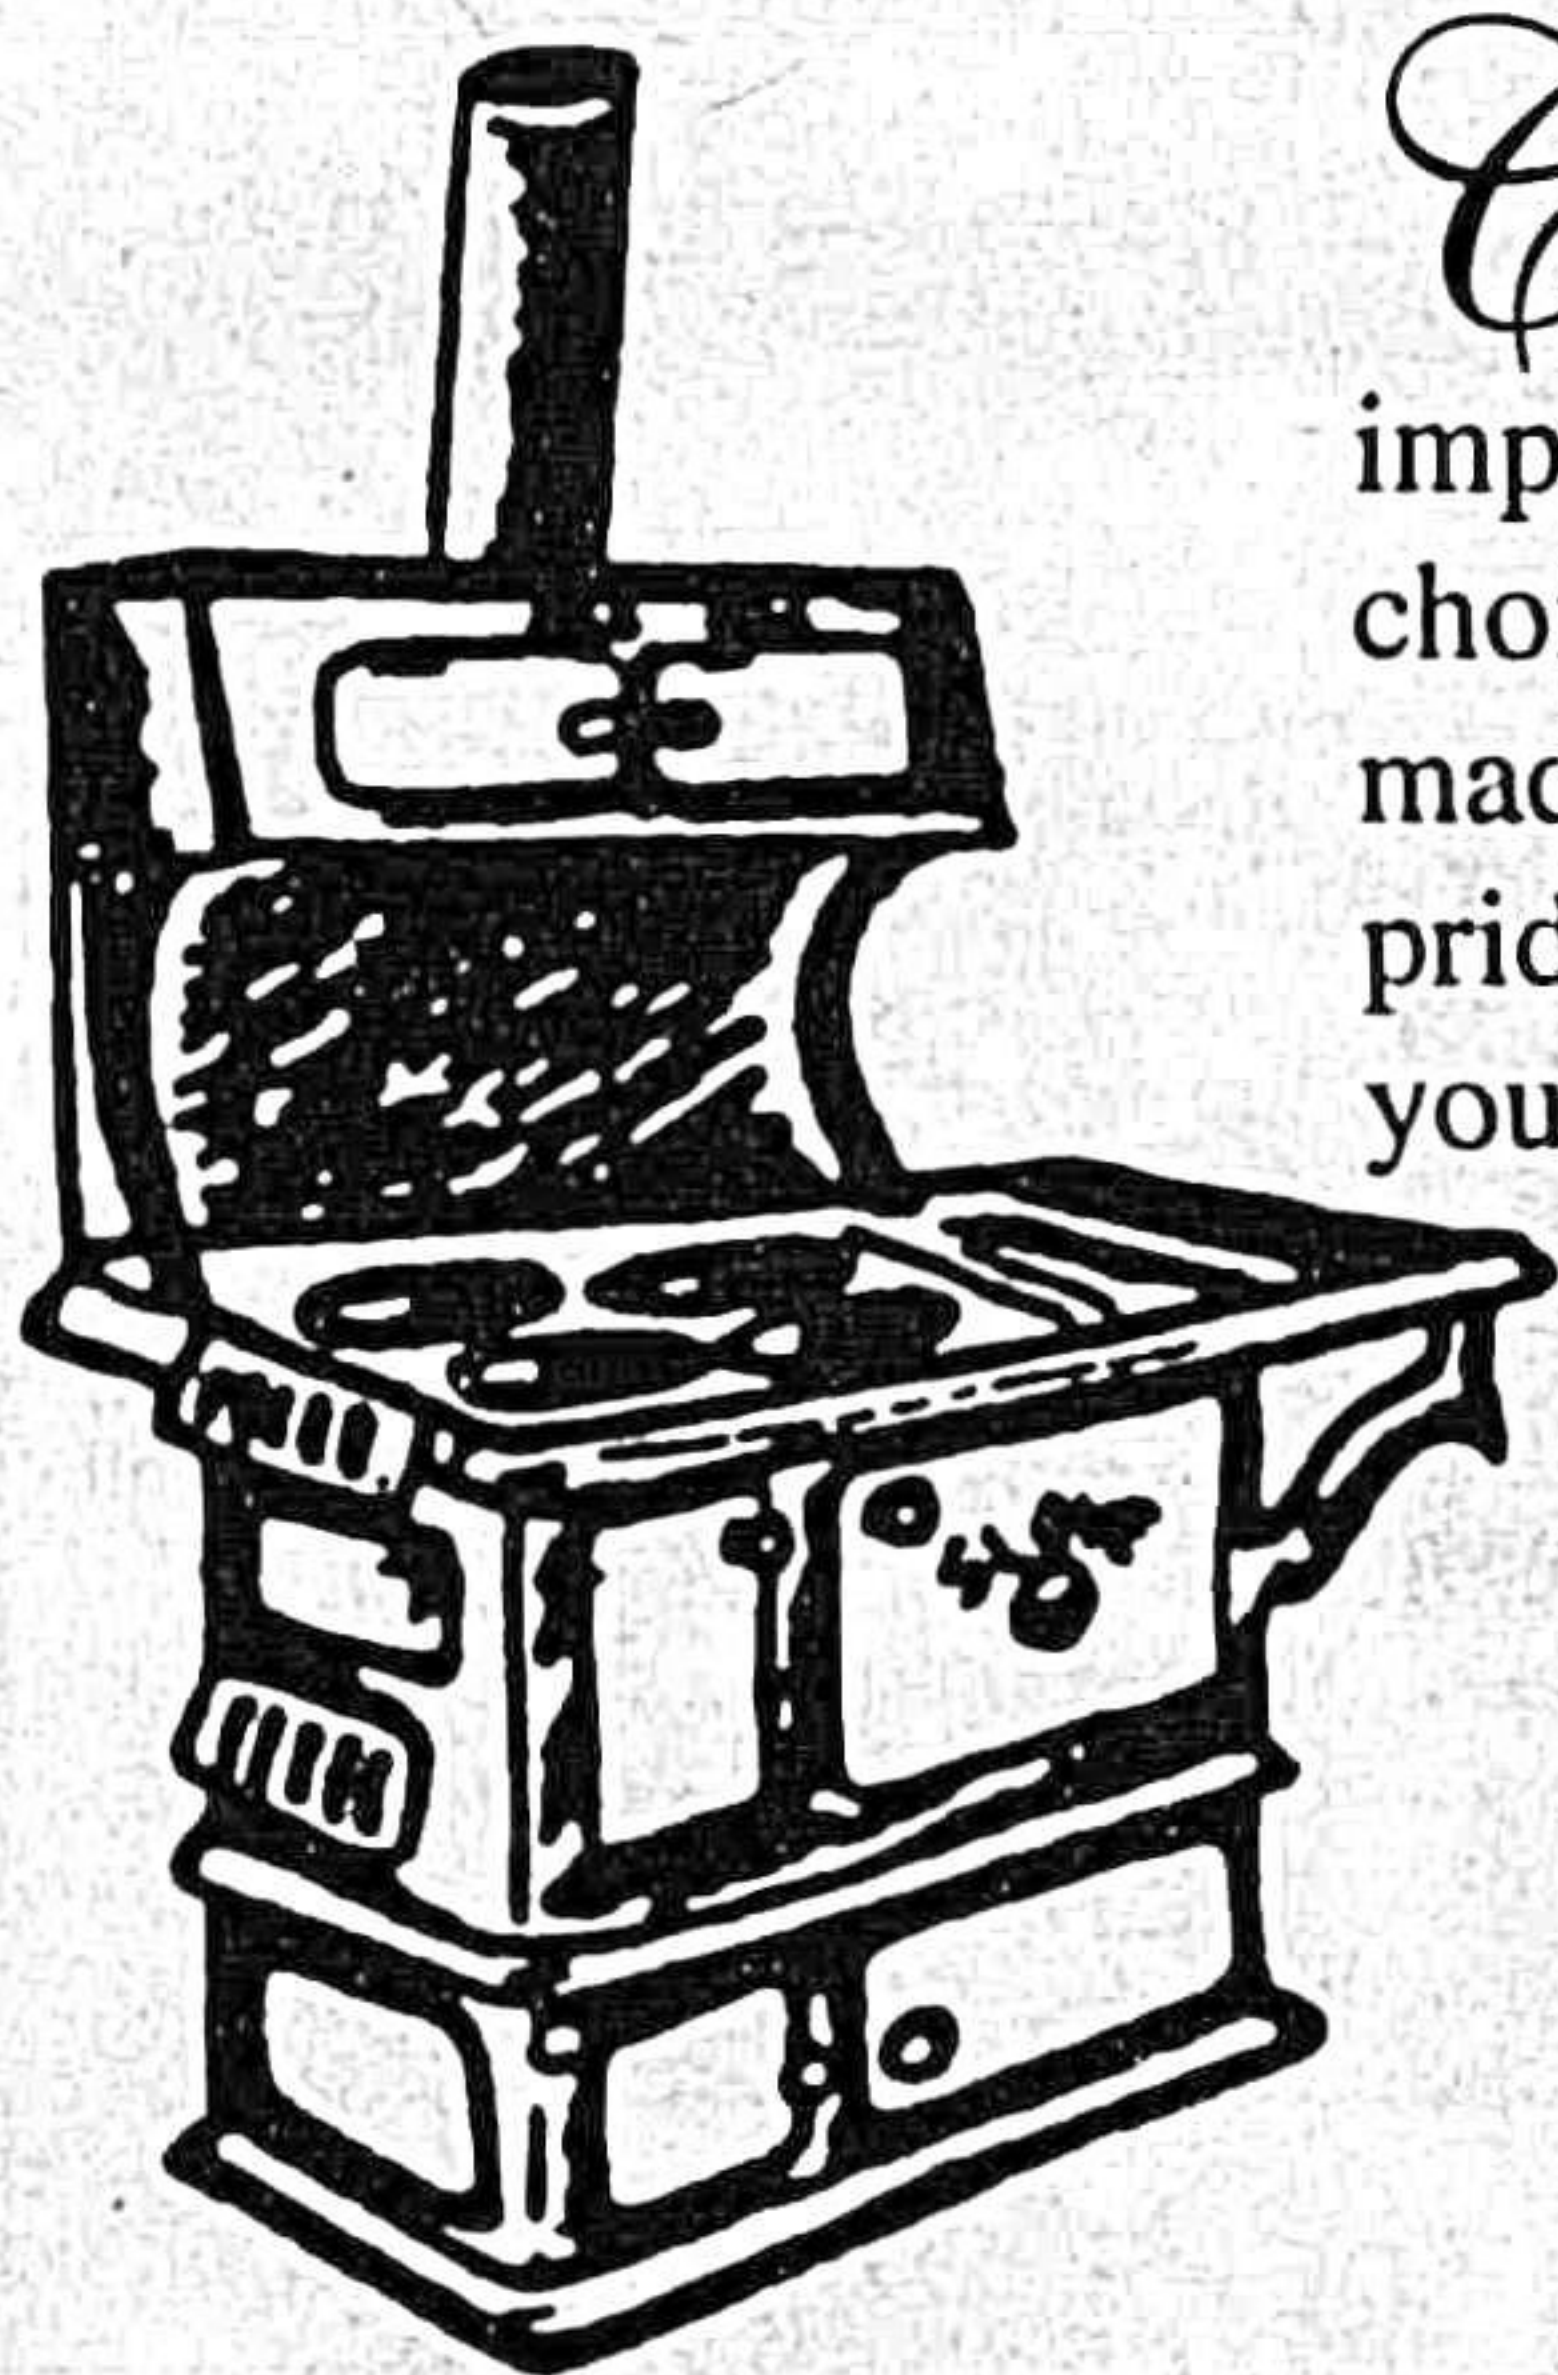

Village administrator Tim Wells said, "We do the same thing for the Lions."

African mission director speaks at Christian Life

By JULIE MURPHY
Staff Reporter

Rev. Don Corbin, regional missions director for the Assemblies of God for the continent of Africa, will speak at the Christian Life Fellowship of Antioch church on May 6 at 10 a.m. The service is open to the public.

"He's one of only five (regional missions director) in our denomination. He oversees our missionary work for all of Africa," said Pastor Jeff Brussaly. "I can't imagine all he's seen."

This service will highlight the success of the Assemblies of God in some of the most economically, politically and spiritually oppressed nations of the world. Corbin will tell about how the denomination's philosophy of raising up local pastors and leaders through local Bible school training has successfully penetrated many areas where the missionary is unwelcome or ineffective.

"I've not heard him speak," said Brussaly. "This is the first time our church has had someone of his magnitude come and speak. We're very excited about it."

Corbin administers the work of 309 Assemblies of God missionaries in 42 countries on the continent of Africa. There are more than 25,000 national credentialed and lay ministers with more than 25,000 churches in these countries where the Assemblies of God members and adherents number about 8 million. Two hundred resident and extension Bible schools are training a total enrollment of 13,000 men and women for targeted ministry across the region.

Nursery will be provided and a free will offering will be taken.

Christian Life Fellowship is located at 41625 N. Deep Lake Rd. For more information, call Brussaly at 395-8572.

I can't find my coat because I'm still wearing it

It was one of those afternoons we have all experienced. You and the children walk in the door after school and you are immediately divided into five pieces.

One child is struggling with a new list of spelling words and needs you to quiz her. One child is trying to grasp the concept of multiplying decimals and you can tell by the expression on her face that the whole idea is passing right over her and you pray she doesn't ask for your help because math is not your strong subject. Another child is gazing bleary eyed over some illegible Social Studies notes, trying to prepare for an upcoming test and you know the whining is about to begin. Naturally they all want your undivided attention at the same time and some knock-your-socks off after school snack as well.

About this time the dog begins his "I gotta go out wiggle" in front of the only person paying him any attention-you. Your spouse calls inquiring as to what gourmet dinner is being prepared, and you suggest soup and grilled cheese.

JINGLE FROM PRINGLE

This gets vetoed immediately and your next suggestion, cereal, well, that gets a reaction that can only be described as "unprintable." So between serving up Baked Alaska and espresso to your starving children, you stand in front of the freezer trying to conjure up a "Julia Childs" type dinner with a freezer-burned pound of ground chuck and a bag of brussel sprouts—at least you think they are brussel sprouts.

The afternoon wears on to evening with you running between the kid-filled, home-work laden, kitchen table, and the stove, oven and microwave. The dinner hour arrives and, between cleaning up spilled milk, prodding children to quit dissecting their plates, and telemarketer interruptions, a meal is consumed.

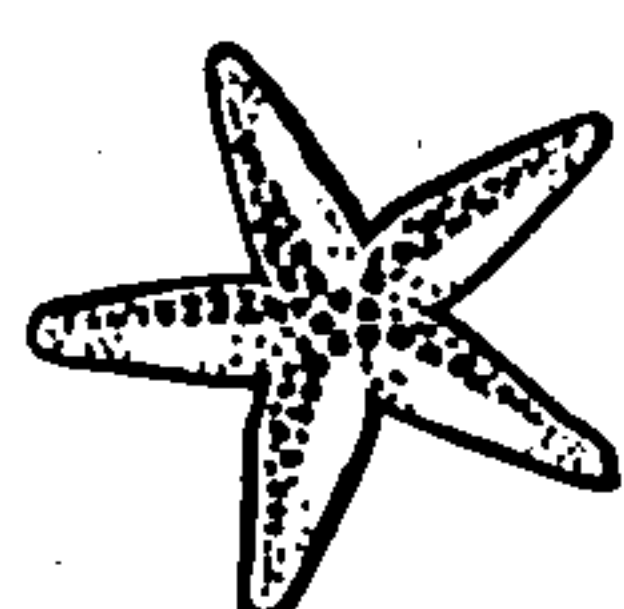

Then as the family runs off to various corners of the house, you clean up the kitchen, prepare tomorrow's lunches, and ready the school paraphernalia for the morning rush. It is then time for the bedtime ritual and once everyone is washed, brushed, and bedded down in clean pajamas, it is time to answer the 14 messages left on the machine that day in your absence, followed by laundry, cleaning, and reading the daily school notes.

With weary limbs, sagging eyelids and the slipper shuffle, you head up to bed, and for the first time since 6 a.m. that morning, you look at yourself in the bathroom mirror. It is then that you realize that the person staring back at you is still wearing a coat. With a shrug of your rounded shoulders, you shake your head, roll your eyes and chuckle to yourself. Well, at least you didn't go through the day wearing your pajamas.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle."

Readers with information for "Jingle from Pringle" should call Lynn Pringle at 395-6364.

One Person CAN Make a Difference!

As a young man walked down the beach at dawn, he noticed an old man ahead of him picking up starfish and flinging them into the sea. Finally catching up with him, the young man asked why he was doing this. The answer was that the stranded fish could die if left in the morning sun. The young man asked: "How can you make a difference? The beach goes on for miles and there must be millions of starfish?" The old man looked at the starfish in his hand and threw it into the waves. "It makes a difference to this one," he replied.

Ace in the hole!

If your looking for a good match on the golf course, or better yet, a partner, you might want to hunt down Grayslake's Hal Weibel.

That's because the 80-year-old has had Brae Loch Country Club in Grayslake by the throat since he started playing there in 1998. In those three years, Weibel has posted the hat trick, referring to holes-in-one, that is. His latest came earlier this season, when he aced the 185-yard sixth hole.

"I also happened to shoot my age - a 78," he said. "I got a hat for my efforts."

In fact, Weibel has two other hats. He aced the 157-yard eighth hole in 1999 and followed up with another last year, this time coming by way of the 165-yard third hole.

"They're all special and pretty exciting," he said.

Weibel's first hole-in-one came in 1994 at the Woodruff Golf Club in Joliet.

"The first one is always a thrill," he said. "It was nice - they gave me a plaque with the ball engraved in it." Of course, all four of his aces have been legal and witnessed.

Weibel has been playing this crazy game for 66 years and the likelihood of him letting up anytime soon is remote.

"I play five times a week. We have a permanent tee-time at 6:03 a.m.," he said.

Weibel said that a hole-in-one is 5 percent good and 95 percent luck.

From the looks of it, sounds like those figures should be reversed.

Just an early reminder that Mundelein High School will again be hosting the Second Annual Celebrity Basketball game, featuring current Chicago Bears' players versus faculty from West Oak Middle School, Carl Sandburg, Santa Maria, Hawthorn School, Mundelein High and Fremont.

The event will be held Saturday, May 19 in the main gymnasium.

Doors will open at 5:30 p.m. with the West Oak Grade School Bands performing at 6:15. The basketball game will commence at 7 p.m. with halftime entertainment being provided by the Jesse White Tumblers. An autograph session will follow the game, approximately at 8:30.

Last year, the event raised more than $5,000, all proceeds going to benefit West Oak School.

"We had a tremendous response last year and are hoping to do even better this year," said the events co-coordinator and West Oak Assistant Principal Lea Keilwitz. "We'd like to get not only our district involved, but surrounding one's as well."

Keilwitz said funds raised last year were evenly distributed, from the purchase of new uniforms for some of the athletic teams to money for books for the library.

A final reminder that Olympic Bronze medalist and World Champion diver Wendy Williams will address the topic of depression at The Athlete's Foot store in Gurnee Mills on April 28 from 12 noon-1:30 p.m.

Confidence-building win for Sequoit baseball

By JOHN PHELPS
Sports Editor

Trailing 4-1 heading into the bottom of the sixth inning, the Sequoits varsity baseball team looked dead in the water.

But instead, Antioch rallied to put a 4-spot on the board during a 5-4 come-from-behind victory in the second game of a double-bill with host Libertyville April 21.

We didn't hit the ball well at all, except for that (the sixth inning)," said Sequoit head coach Paul Petty. "I think we had eight hits in the game - five in that inning. This young team continues to surprise me."

The win put Antioch at 14-6 overall and tied for the top spot in the NSC Lake Division with the Cats. Both are 3-1.

In that decisive sixth inning, Trent Domel led off with a single and advanced to second on a wild pitch. Justin Kent then laced a single, moving Domel to third. Mike Curto, running for Kent, stole second with Shawn Schuler then delivering a two-run single to make it 4-3. After a walk to Chris Kocinski, Nick Severson lined a single to left field, scoring Schuler to tie the game at 4-4. Callanan then roped a single, scoring Kyle Davis, who was running for Kocinski.

"We did the little things it takes to win ball games," added Petty. Libertyville is a strong team and to pull out a split with them really helps our mindset."

The opener featured a pitching duel between two of the area's best, Libertyville's Dan Harrington and Antioch's Chris Malec.

Unfortunately for the Sequoits, Malec tossed a two-hit complete game but it was Libertyville who got the timely hits in coming away with the 2-0 victory.

"I was disappointed about us losing," said Malec, who stands at 6-1 on the year. "It took me a while to get in the zone but I settled down and started getting my slider going."

The Cats, 16-3 overall, scored all of the runs it would need, one in the first followed by one in the fifth.

Malec (7-1) made amends April 24 as the Sequoits (16-5 overall) mowed down Round Lake, 8-0. For the game, Malec fanned six while Finkelberg went 3-for-4 with two RBI and Domel 2-for-3 to lead the offense. Finkelberg also picked up the save in relief of Malec.

Fain reigns supreme at Grass Lake

By ROB BACKUS
Staff Reporter

Scoring in double figures is tough when it comes to grade school girls basketball. In fact, many of the scores read like the opening quarter of some professional games.

But it wasn't tough for Grass Lake seventh-grader Ashley Fain, who averaged 14 points per game over 31 games between both "A" and "B" level teams.

Fain also averaged three rebounds, four steals and one block per game and was a key ball handler and distributor at point guard.

"She enjoyed passing and watching her teammates score," said co-head coach Jeff Fain. "But when the going got tough and she had to take over, she did."

Her ability to take over a game was evidenced in the fourth quarter of the championship game of the Lakes Region Athletic Conference against Big Hollow.

With the game close, Fain outscored Big Hollow single-handedly 9-2 at the beginning of the frame as Grass Lake won the game and the title, 33-31.

Ashley Fain

"The was the best moment for me," Ashley Fain recalls. "There was a lot of pressure but I looked above it. I had confidence in myself and I knew we could do it."

But the 9-2 tirade against Big Hollow wasn't the only time Fain outscored the opposition by herself.

On the "B" level, she accomplished the feat six times and at the "A" level, she did it once.

Despite her impressive individual numbers, those of her team are even better.

In three years of playing basketball at Grass Lake, Fain's teams are a combined 39-4 and all three have won first-place trophies or championships.

"She (Ashley) was the difference maker for us," said Jeff Fain. "There were times that we blew big leads when she wasn't on the floor."

Although Fain, who began playing the game when she was age five, has only one year left at Grass Lake. She then plans to keep playing when she attends Antioch Community High School.

"Basketball, for me, means fun and I plan to keep playing it," said Ashley Fain. "It's special to me."

ACHS girls soccer searching

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

At a time in the season when most teams begin to peak and play their best soccer, the Antioch girls varsity team is scrambling to find an end to their current six-game slide.

On the year, the Sequoits have found themselves on the losing end more times than not with a record of 5-8. A difficult schedule seems to be the culprit in what seems to be a very rough stretch for this young squad.

"Our schedule is tough but when everything is clicking, we might beat a few of the teams. If you schedule people you can beat, you just don't get any better," said head coach Charlie Trout.

Aside from the difficult schedule, the on-field play of Antioch has been less than desirable with the defense being unable to stop opponents as of late. However, the offense seems to be doing an efficient job in getting the right amount of goals to win games.

"We've been moving the ball well offensively but at times we haven't finished as well as we'd like too," said Trout. "It's being out of position defensively that has caught us."

Senior Emily Niles and junior Lauren Hungarland lead the Sequoits in points on the year. Niles is the team leader leading in goals while Hungarland tops the assist list.

The Lady Sequoits will host their Fourth Annual State Line Challenge April 27-28 at Polley Field off the corners of Deep Lake and Grass Lake Rds. in Antioch. The Challenge brings together some of the top high school soccer teams from suburban Chicago, downstate Illinois and the state of Wisconsin.

Quarterfinals will be played at 5 p.m. April 27 while the consolation and championship semifinals will be played at 10 a.m. April 28. All trophy games will then be played at 2 p.m.

Lakers traveling basketball off and running

The Lakeland-based Laker traveling youth basketball teams are off to yet another successful start to the 2001 season.

For the first time in several years, the Lakers organization, in its 34th year, has again fielded five teams: fifth-grade boys; sixth-grade boys; seventh-grade boys; eighth-grade boys; ninth-grade boys; and, 10th-grade boys.

The sixth-grade team definitely got off on the right foot in winning the Madison Tournament last weekend. The Lakers defeated the Milwaukee Spartans 38-26 in the title game. The squad was led in scoring by Shannon Adams and Ceola Clark. Johnnie Smith, Clark and Josh Moss led the team in assists while Aaron Jackson and Adams were the leading rebounders.

In addition to the aforementioned players, other team members include Casey Kloss, Dan Riedel, Kevin Jermyn, Billy DeAngelis and Matt Eckhart. The team is coached by former Laker

Brian Davis.

The sixth-graders also finished second in the Cage Classic National Qualifier, held in Racine earlier this month.

Meanwhile, the Lakers ninth-grade team finished third in ninth-10th-grade bracket in the Madison Tournament, falling to the sixth-grade Lakers in the consolation finals. Eric Verneisel and Mundelein's Matt Corning led them in scoring.

Other team members on the ninth-grade team includes Jay Bajgert, Corning, Pat Whalen, Reggie Johnson, Verneisel, Tyler Mathlessen, Brandon Allen and Maurice Thompson. They are coached by Reggie Johnson.

Playing in the eighth-grade division, the seventh-grade team also turned in a respectable fourth-place showing in Madison. The Lakers were paced by Mike Morrissey, son of former Chicago Bear Jim Morrissey. Over three games, Mike Morrissey averaged 16 points per game.

Behind the efforts of Jon Gregoire, Dre Gant and Tom Kloss, the 10th-grade team also took fourth in Madison.

Along with the aforementioned, the seventh-grade team will compete in the American Youth Basketball tournament, to be held in Waukesha, Wis. tournament April 28-29. The seventh-graders are coached by Lakers founder Denny Porter.

"After limited practice time, I think we're off to a decent start," said Porter. "It'll come together before you know it."

Porter started the league in 1967. In that time, his teams have won seven national titles, 30-plus state crowns, and numerous tournament titles.

"We'd love to entertain a girls team but need a coach," he added.

Anyone interested in coaching should contact Porter at 838-1944 or Brian Davis at 223-1405.

In conjunction, this special event will mark the grand opening of the new concession stand, which was constructed by Fred Nielsen of Neilsen Construction. It will be named for his donation after his father, Fred Nielsen, Sr.

Fred Nielsen was one of the former directors of Lakes Region Youth Baseball which was the fund-raising arm of the baseball league. Fred Nielsen was also instrumental in the construction of the the baseball park.

"This has been a banner year for Lake Villa Township Baseball," said The Lakes Region Youth Baseball Chairman Rich Coles. "Population of Lake Villa Township Baseball is currently 700 strong and growing."

On a related note, continuing from its successes of last year, Lake Villa will again be hosting the AABC State Championship series beginning July 12.

This event will include the mayors, police departments, fire departments and rescue squads from both Lake Villa and Lindenhurst.

Advertising spots are still available for all of these events. Please contact Tom Knaack at 356-1837 for further information.

Stretch run for ACHS softball

By JOE PRUSKI
Correspondent

With increased scoring and steady pitching, Antioch High's varsity softball team has become one of the hottest teams in the North Suburban Conference.

Hence, the Sequoits find themselves in the midst of a five-game winning streak, including victories over Round Lake, Niles North, Libertyville, and Lake Forest. A season that began with a record of 3-7 is now improved to 8-7. Not more importantly, perhaps, is that the momentum is clearly on its side as they head into the second half of the season.

"We're playing better as a team than we did last year. Early on we struggled with our hitting but we're over it now," said junior Amanda Politt.

After the slow start to the season, head coach Jen Schultz has seen the climb up due to the consistent pitching while the hitting has started to come around.

"The pitching has been there all year. Kristen is pitching very well even with her injury and Wells is improving daily. I'm confident putting either one in, we just need to keep up our hitting," said Schultz.

Along with a steady bat from Politt, other sluggers that have stepped up offensively include Katie Birk and Carolyn Cooley.

Although its current success has left the team in a state of euphoria, Schultz is quick to point out that the true challenges lie ahead.

"The last week of the season is where all our competition is, we'll give Mundelein a run for their money," she said.

The Sequoits next contest will be at Vernon Hills April 26, beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Many of Lake County's wood-frame schoolhouses were eventually replaced with brick schools. Because the brick buildings were more resistant to weather and the passage of time, some of them are still in use today. Wadsworth School, above, built in 1925, serves today as the town hall for the Village of Wadsworth. A few miles away, in Gurnee, Stafford School, right, is a private residence. —Photos by John Koski

Fading into the past

by JOHN KOSKI

Lake County's first one-room schoolhouses were log cabins. They were later replaced with wood-frame structures, such as Channel Lake School, photographed above on May 26, 1930 (Grace Dickson was the teacher), and Long Grove School, above right, seen in an undated photograph. —Photos courtesy of Lake County Museum.

There's not much left of Hockaday School in Millburn. Just a broken line of foundation stones peeping up from a pasture. Standing in that pasture on a warm, spring day it's not hard to imagine a schoolyard full of children laughing and playing. If you pause for a moment and let the present slip away, you can almost hear their sing-song voices as they play ring-around-the-rosie, their hands linked together as they circle the base of a majestic oak growing only a few dozen feet from where the school once stood.

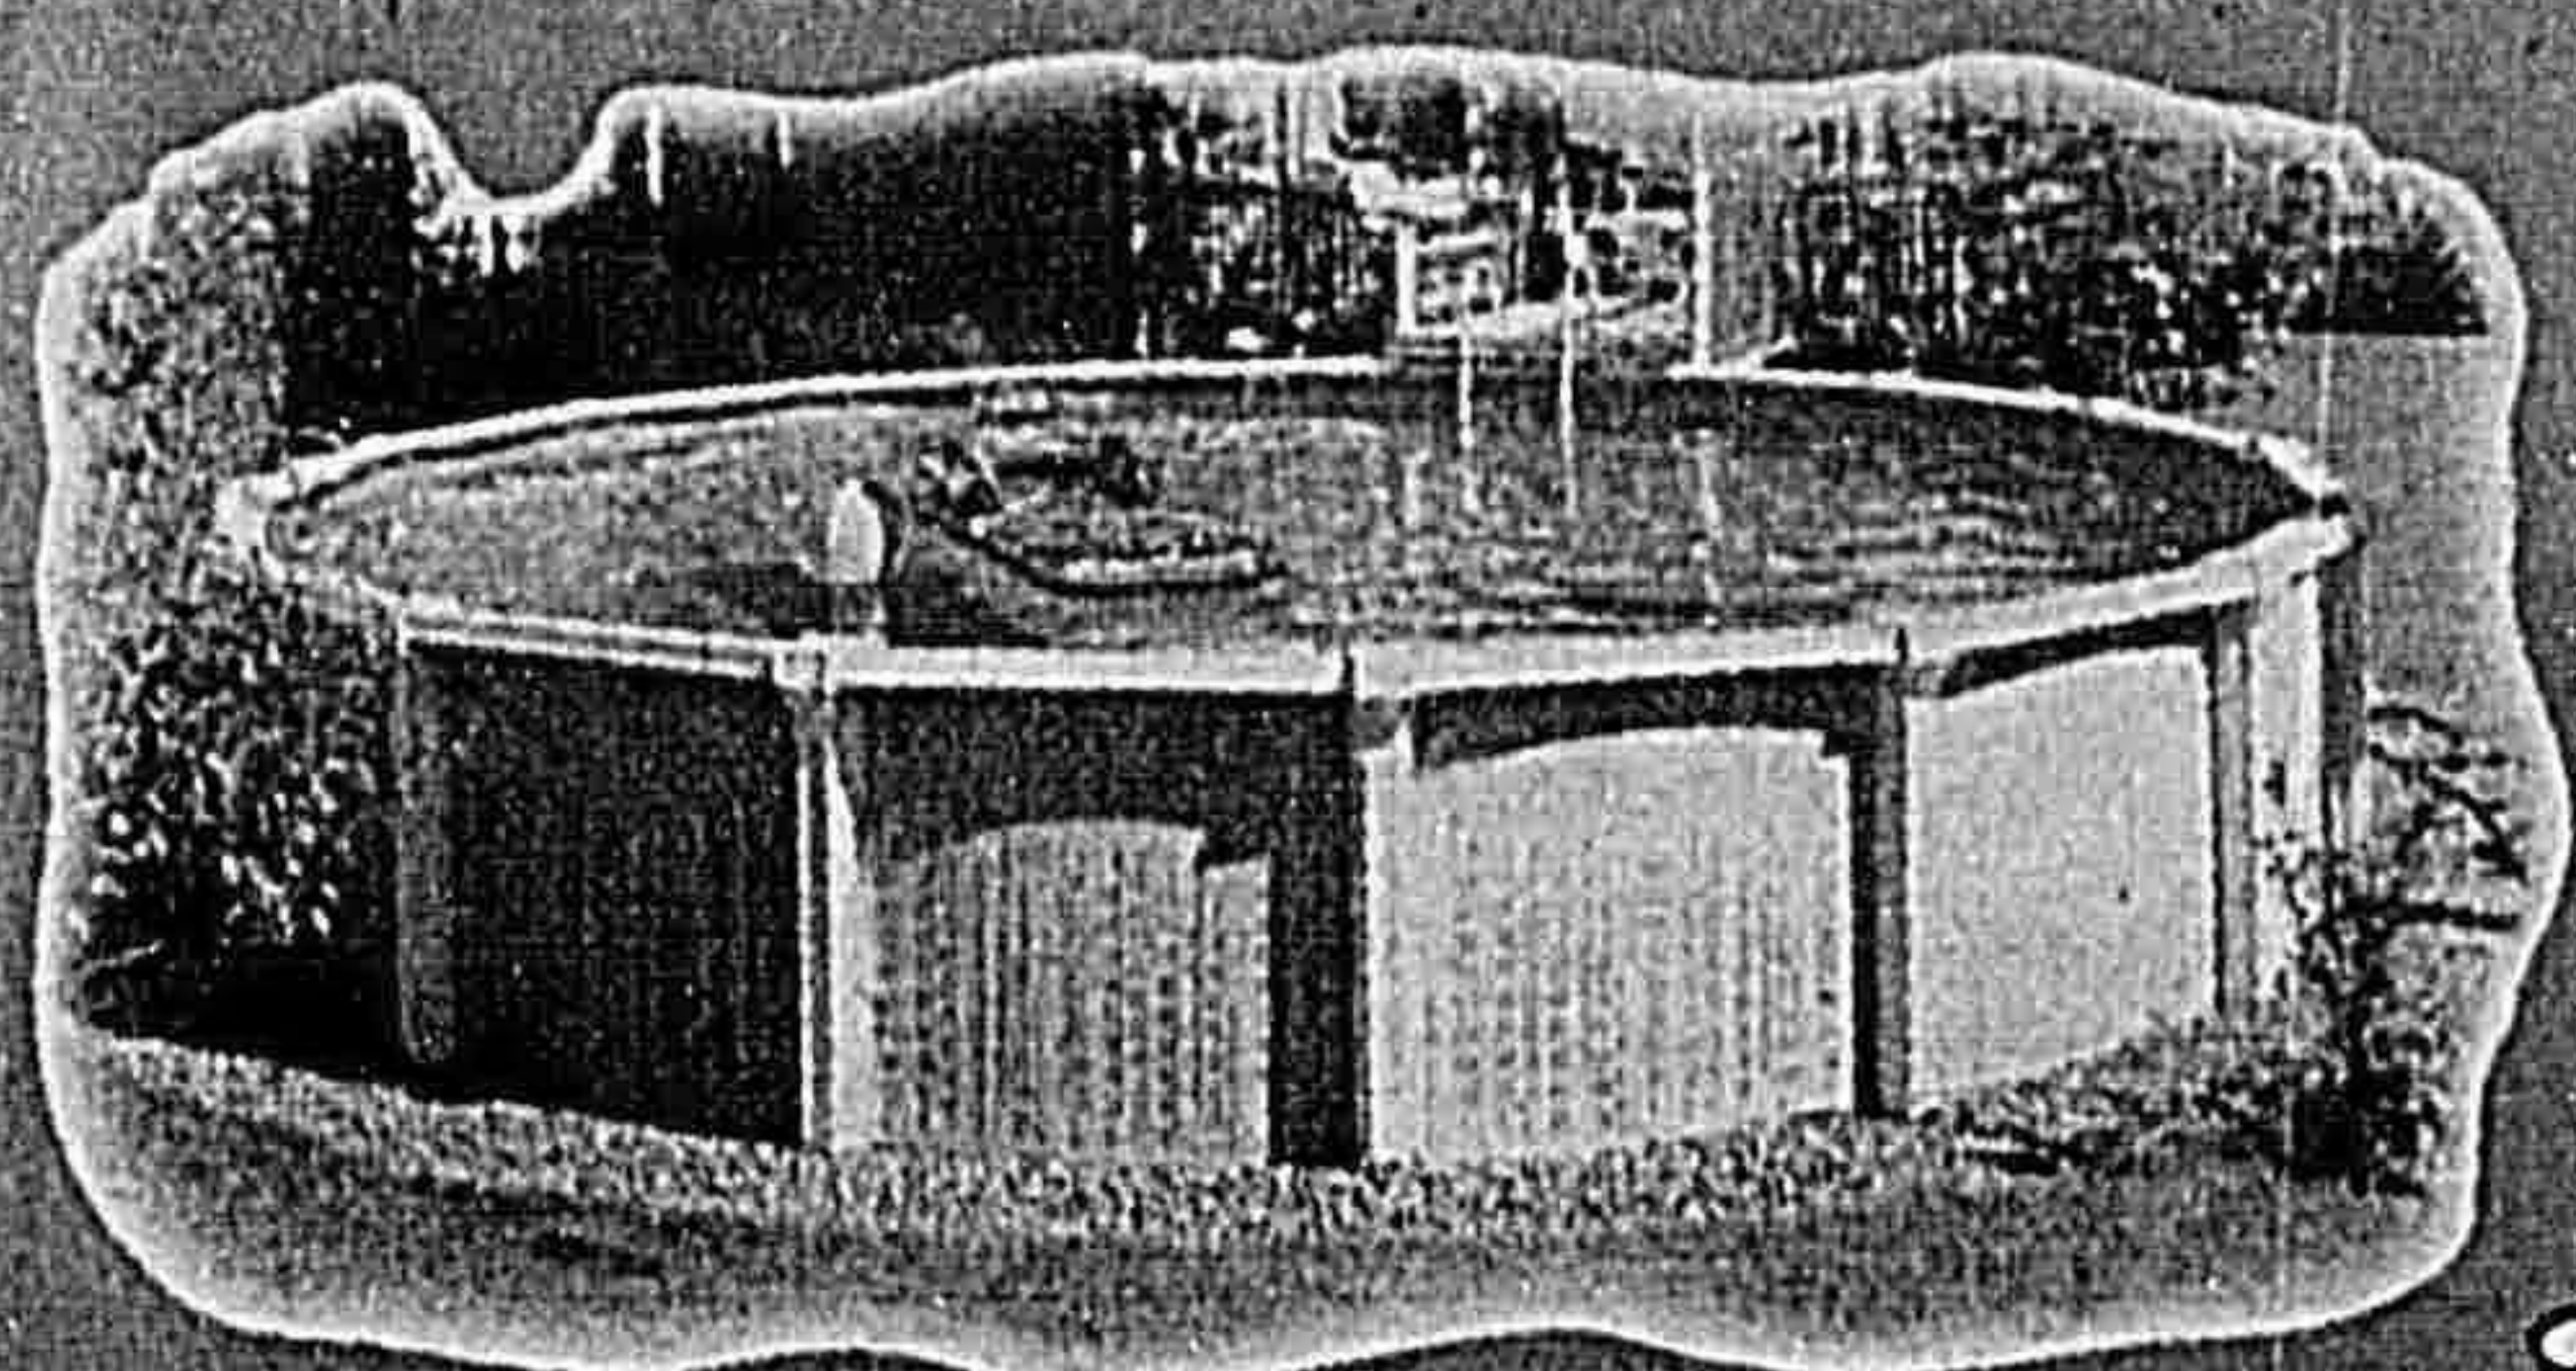

Sadly, for many, the days of Lake County's one-room schoolhouses disappeared decades ago. The last of them was Hickory School, which closed its doors in the early 1960s. Almost all succumbed to consolidation, largely made possible by better roads and transportation.

From a high of about a hundred in the late 1800s, all of Lake County's one-room schoolhouses had ceased operating by the early 1960s there were probably more than that. Martin says that the majority of them were one-room schoolhouses.

Martin is currently writing a book about Lake County's 19th century one-room schools, a painstaking process she has been working on for five years. Her interest in education stems partly from a 25-year teaching career in the English Dept. at Warren Township High School.

Although one-room schools were not exclusive to Illinois, it is claimed that Illinois had more of them than any other state — 12,000 at one point, according to Lucy Townsend, curator of Northern Illinois University's Blackwell History of Education Museum.

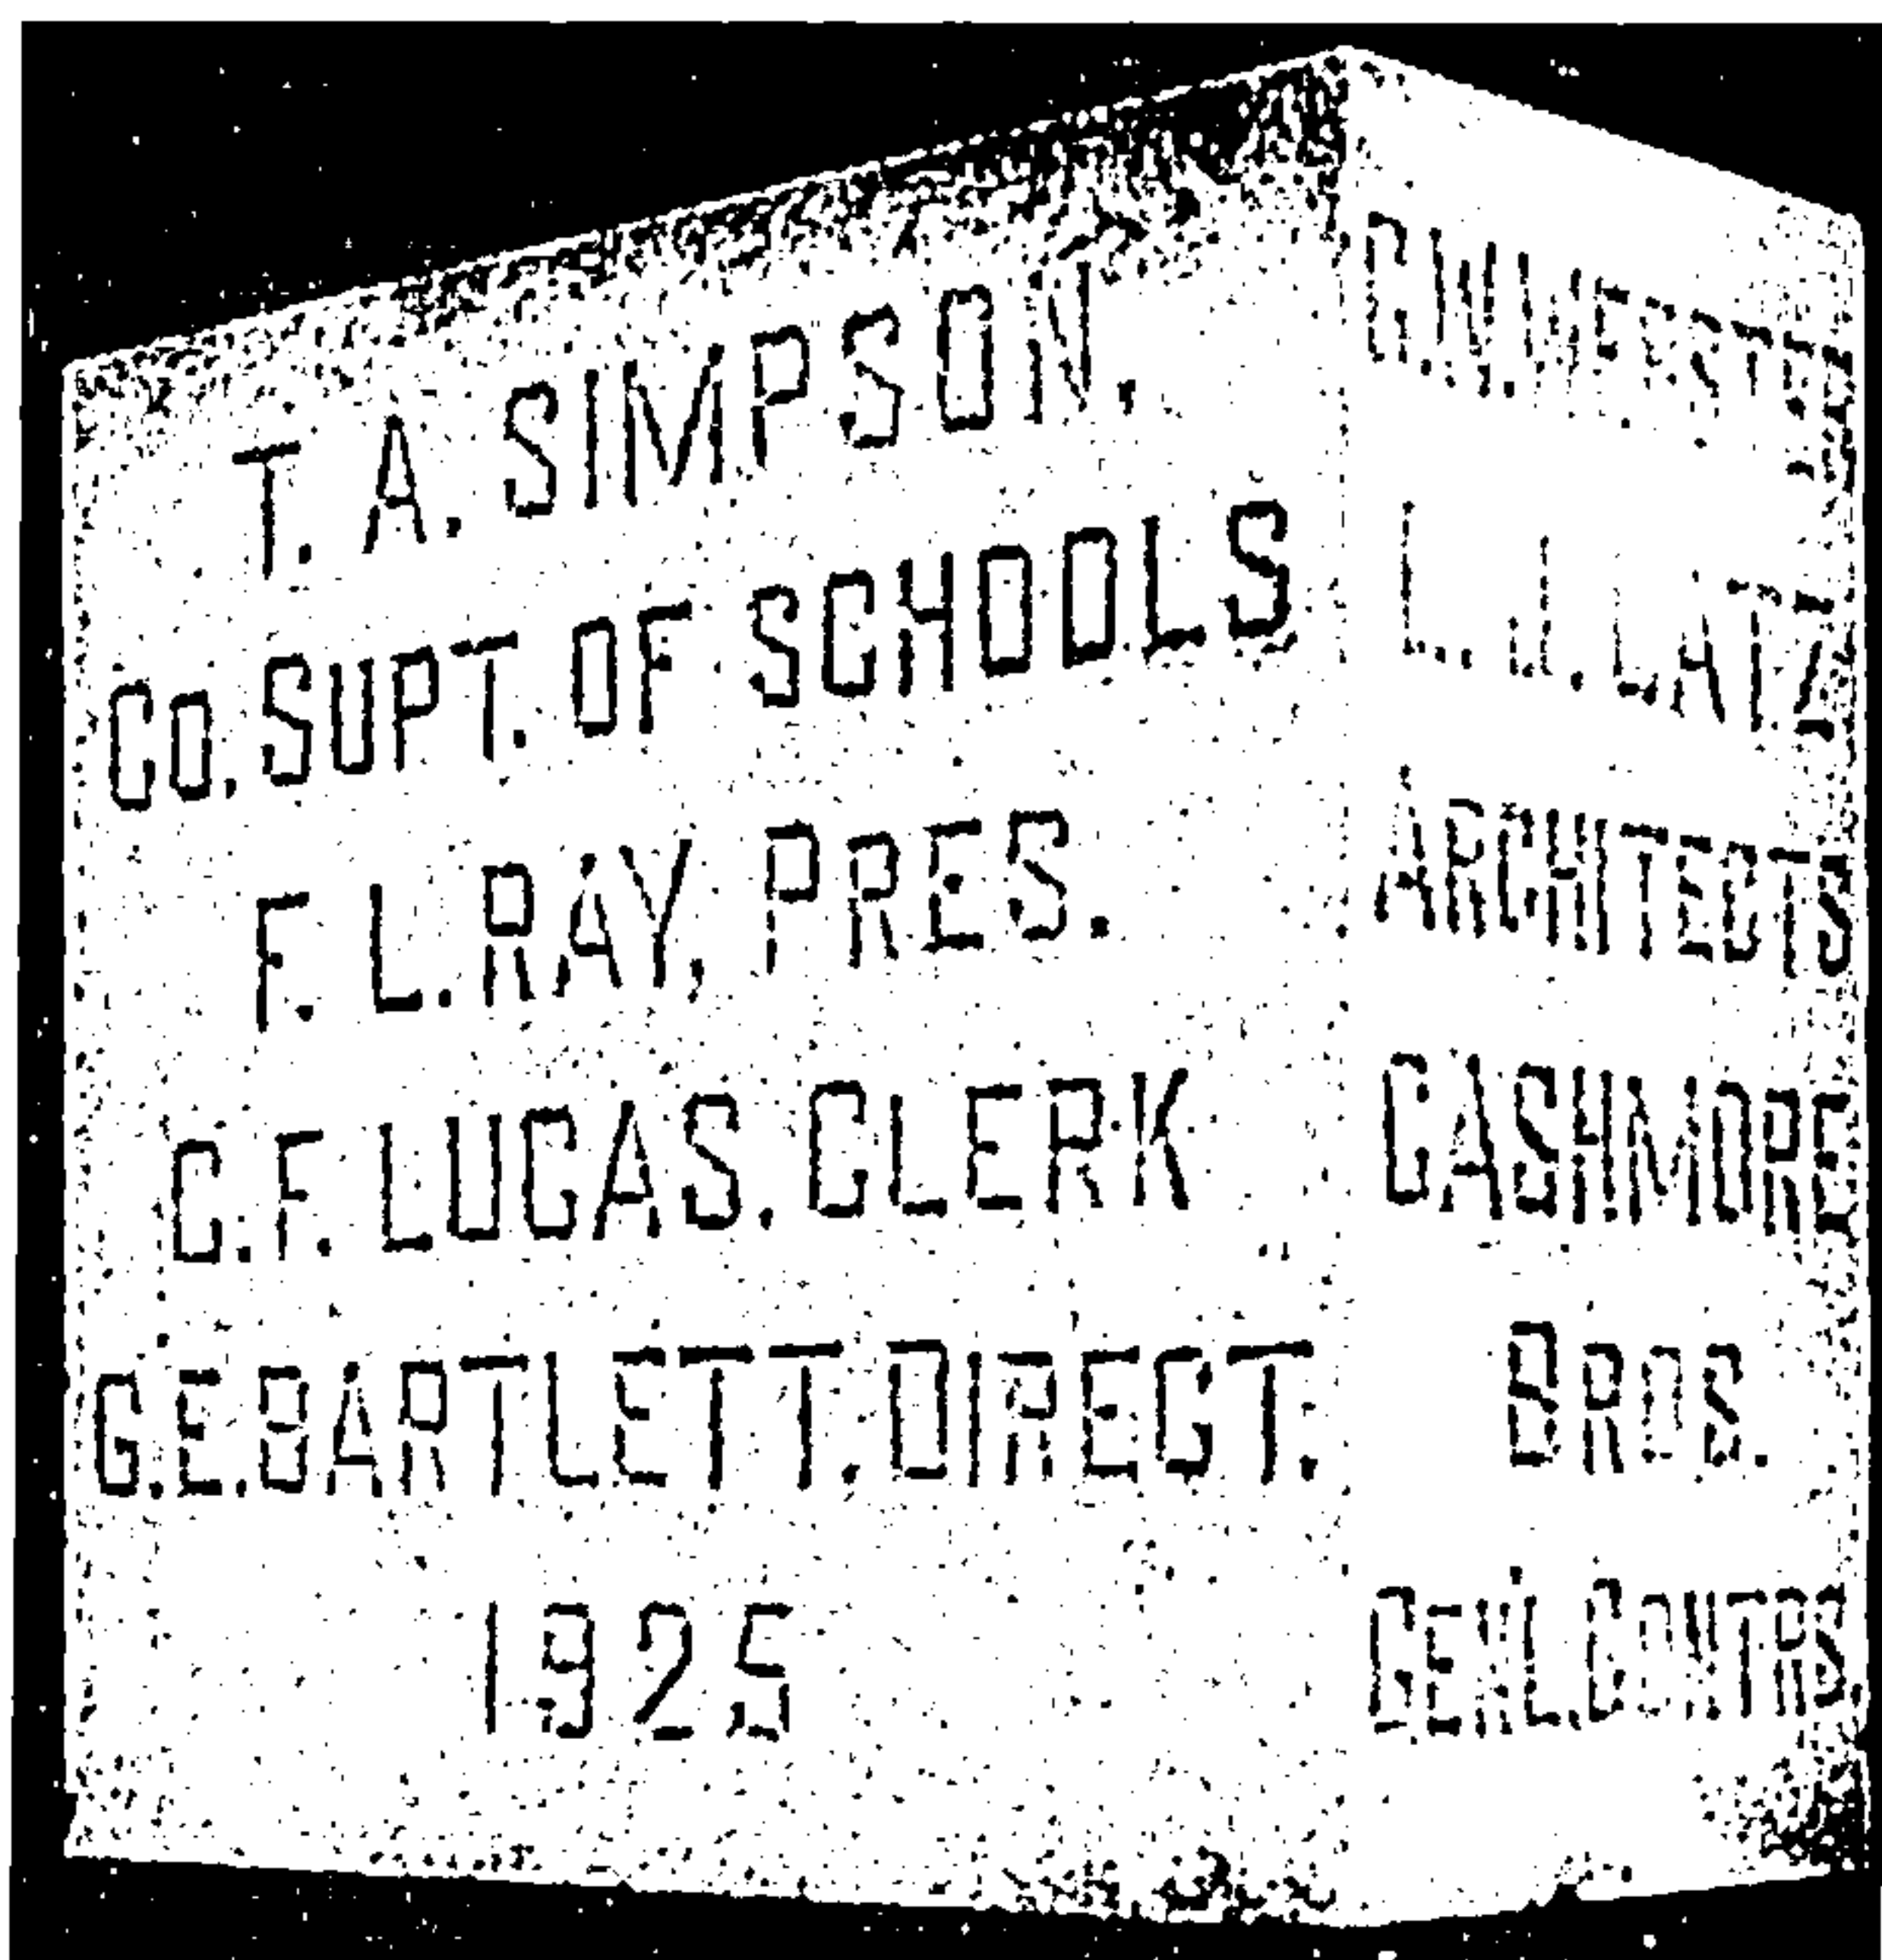

Historians generally agree that Lake County's first one-room schoolhouse was established in a log cabin in Vernon Township by Laura Sprague in the fall of 1836.

"While Miss Sprague established the first school in Lake County,"

Townsend says, "the distinction of building the county's first one-room schoolhouse belongs to Vardin Grove, Independence Grove or Libertyville; all three names following one another in respect to present-day Libertyville."

"Early one-room schools were subscription schools," Martin notes. "They were not open to the public. They were strictly the result of local efforts by people living in a township or part of a township and were usually named for the people who donated land or money to build the school."

In the 1830s and 1840s, Martin says, most of Lake County's one-room schools were log cabins. Originally the cabins served as homes, with classes held during the day. As the schools became more popular, the cabin's owners often moved to newer quarters, with the cabin then being used strictly as a school.

After 1865, most of the county's one-room schoolhouses were frame structures, many of them built on the same foundation that the log cabins had occupied. Hockaday School was an early example, in 1860, of a frame structure that replaced a log cabin.

In the 1870s and 1880s, most of the area's one-room schools were built of brick. Many of them are still in use today. Millburn Town Hall is housed in the former Millburn School. Others are used as private residences or house commercial enterprises. It is worth noting that the only former one-room schoolhouse in Lake County that is still associated with formal education is Casey School in Prairie Crossing. It currently houses a charter school.

Back in the 19th century, Martin says, the school year was divided into three parts. There was a winter term that started after the fall harvest had been completed, and a spring term that ended when planting was ready to begin. Each term was 8 to 10 weeks long. The winter and spring terms were primarily for older children. A summer term, held from June through August, was for younger children. The summer terms were often taught by 16- to 18-year-old girls who would board with one family for the entire term or with a different family each week.

Teachers for the fall and spring terms were generally men, Martin says, and were paid $24 to $36 per term in the 1850s and 1860s. Many of them were college students who were taking time away from their studies as a type of internship experience. Often, a young woman was hired to assist with the primary grades.

"Discipline was an ongoing problem," Martin says. "Many teachers lost their jobs because they couldn't handle the discipline." She notes that many one-room schools had 80 or more students, making it difficult for just one person to keep all of the students in line. "At times, school let out a few weeks early if discipline couldn't be handled," she says.

Although McGuffey Readers are frequently associated with one-room schools, Martin says that Lake County's one-room schools used Union Readers, published by the Sanders Union Company of Chicago. "There were certain advantages to using a 'local' reader," she says. "In addition, Union readers were partisan to the Union cause and had pictures of soldiers and patriotic sayings." Martin also notes that the Union Readers took an abolitionist stance.

Anyone with information about Lake County's one-room schools of the 1800s can contact Martin at the Lake County Museum at (847) 526-8638. She is especially interested in school board minutes and photographs of schools, children and teachers. All materials can be duplicated with the owner's permission and the originals returned unharmed.

'Amores Perros' definitely not a dog

We rarely review foreign films in these pages, but rarely does one this worthy manage to make it to our local theaters.

"Amores Perros," which roughly translates as "Love's a Pain" and is a Spanish-language film with English subtitles, is now playing at the Marcus Gurnee Cinema. The movie takes us on a hard-breathing tour of three unrelated but intersecting stories, spun out of the wreckage of a brutal car accident.

Dogs play a major role in the lives of each of the protagonists, and serve as a metaphor for the dog-eat-dog world their owners occupy.

As the film opens, young Octavio (Gael Garcia Bernal) is seen frantically trying to outrun the thugs who have just shot his dog, Cofi. Octavio has been putting his dog out to fight in an effort to raise money to run off with his sister-in-law, Susana (Vanessa Bauche).

A Humane Society disclaimer precedes the opening shots of the film. Dogfight scenes are limited and simulated, and more is implied than shown, but some scenes may upset viewers who are more sensitive.

Octavio finds — as do the characters in the other stories — that God does indeed laugh at the plans of man, as we see, in flashes backward and forward, that nothing is ever as it seems, and what we want is not always what we get.

The second victim of Octavio's car crash is Valeria (Goya Toledo), a beautiful model whose magazine editor lover, Daniel (Alvaro Guerrero), has left his family to live with her in a pricey love-nest.

The expensive condo apartment and the couples' lives become a shambles in the aftermath of the accident, when Valeria's leg is broken, and her fancy little dog Richie gets stuck under the floorboards with a pack of rats.

In the third story, a former political terrorist known as El Chivo, or Gael Garcia Bernal drives his car into a collision with destiny in the award-winning foreign film "Amores Perros," now playing at the Gurnee Cinema.

"the Goat" (Emilio Echevarria), pines after Maru, the daughter he left behind. El Chivo, now a broken-down near-homeless man, lives in a junkyard with his dogs, including Cofi, rescued from the crash.

El Chivo takes on assassinations for hire from a corrupt policeman. When an attempted hit is thwarted, he experiences an epiphany that leads him to an unexpected way to end his life of violence.

This film, nominated for Best

Foreign Language Film by the Academy, has won numerous awards in many venues, including three prizes at the Cannes Film Festival 2000.

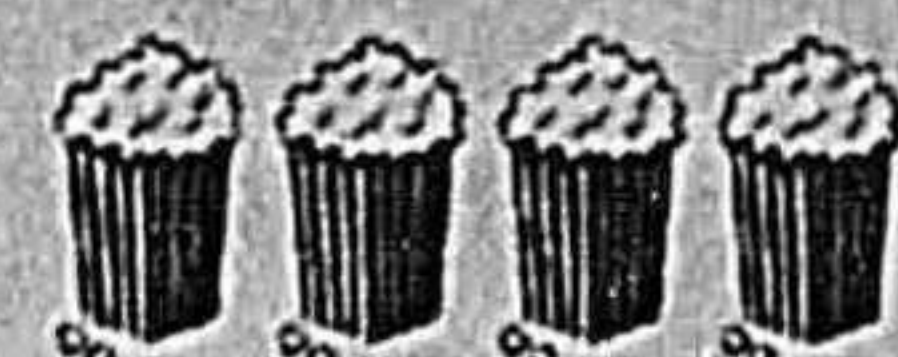

I could not argue with any of them. The film kept me involved, although it runs considerably longer than most American movies.

All three stories were artfully entwined in the stream of time and place, each impinging slightly on the others, without interfering, or ringing falsely in the range of normal coincidence.

Not a movie for children or even young adolescents, it contains considerable violence, exceedingly strong language and some explicit sex scenes, although not as explicit as in daytime television.

Given that, in my opinion, only films destined to be classics on the order of "Citizen Kane" deserve ratings anywhere near five popcorn boxes, I enthusiastically give "Amores Perros" four boxes plus a few kernels. It doesn't bite.

McCare Night set for May 2

On Wednesday, May 2, from 5-8 p.m., local McDonald's owners will host a special "McCare Night" for education with a portion of the proceeds benefiting selected schools. The principals and teachers from each school will be working the front counter at the restaurants to help celebrate the event.

"Giving back to the community is a philosophy we strongly support and when it comes to young people, whatever we can do to support educational efforts is very important to us as an employer and good community citizen," said Christine Schenk, owner of the Rollins Rd. McDonald's in Round Lake Beach.

Schenk's restaurant, 774 Rollins Rd. in Round Lake Beach will participate in the event, with proceeds benefiting Avon School PTF. Other participating locations are 653 Rand Rd. in Lake Zurich and 511 W. Liberty in Wauconda, both benefiting St. Frances DeSales School.

More than a third of McDonald's independent owner/operators and more than half of McDonald's Corporation executives began their careers in a McDonald's restaurant.

McDonald's Owners of Chicagoland & Northwest Indiana consist of over 470 restaurants stretching from Zion to Watseka and Princeton to Michigan City, Ind. As part of its on-going community efforts, McDonald's supports various charitable and educational programs.

Free lawyer consultation

Anyone in Illinois with a question about a legal matter can call and talk to a lawyer—at not cost, on Saturday, April 28, "Ask A Lawyer Day."

Lawyer volunteers will answer phones at seven locations around the state from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. Any Illinois resident can call toll-free at 1-800-252-8909 or a local number in some areas for a free consultation with a lawyer.

The 20th annual Ask a Lawyer Day, part of Law Day activities in Illinois, is sponsored by the Illinois State Bar Association in cooperation with bar associations in Chicago and north and west suburbs, DuPage, Lake, Will and Sangamon Counties.

Lawyer volunteers will be able to answer questions about consumer problems, family law, estate planning, personal injury, or any other legal situations affecting individuals.

Callers will be advised of steps they can take to resolve any legal problems. If they need legal services, they will be advised to see their attorney or will receive a referral through the lawyer referral service in their area.

"People often are hesitant to see a lawyer, even when they know they have a legal problem," said Herb Franks of Marengo, president of the Illinois State Bar Assoc. "This is their chance to receive important information to help them understand their legal rights and responsibilities."

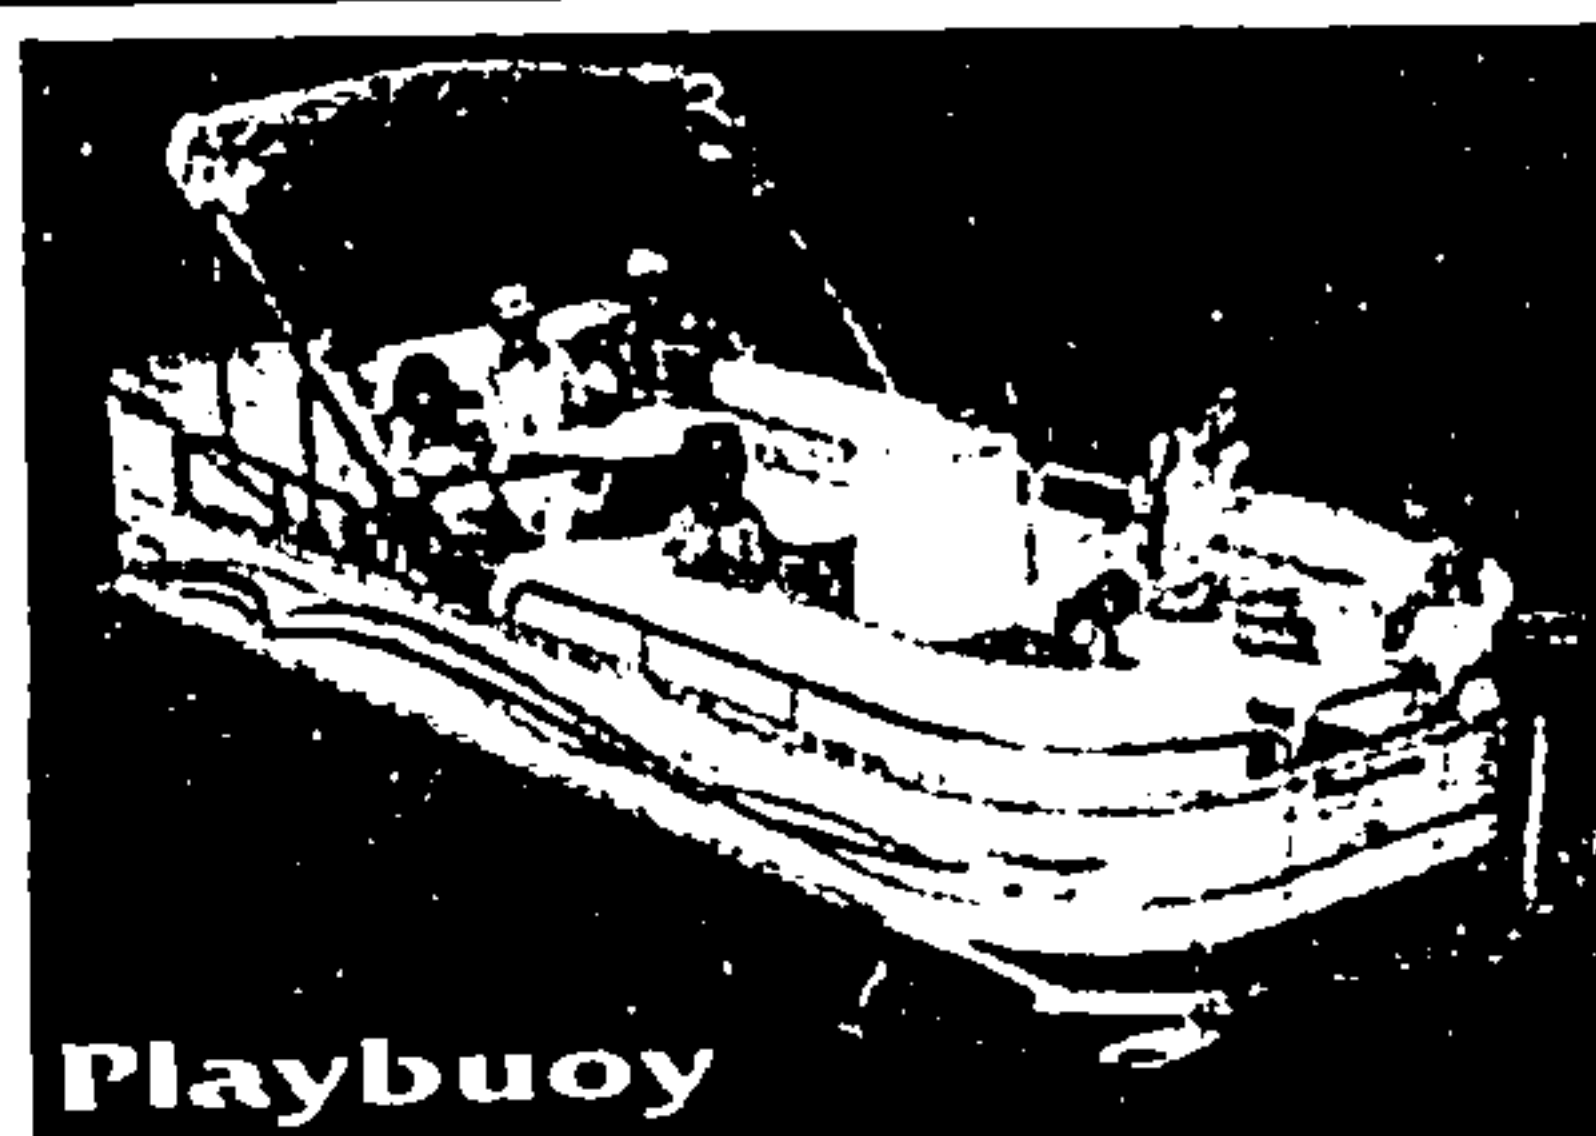

"Ask a Lawyer Day" is a public service project that enables people with a legal question to call a lawyer and learn about their legal rights and responsibilities.

Phone numbers to call on "Ask a Lawyer Day" on April 28 are:

- The Chicago Bar Assoc. (312) 554-2001
- North Suburban Bar Assoc. (847) 328-1181
- Northwest Suburban Bar Assoc. (847) 259-7908
- Lake County Bar Assoc. (847) 244-3140
- From anywhere in Illinois-toll free 1-800-252-8908.

The 36,000-member Illinois State Bar Assoc., with offices in Springfield and Chicago, provides professional services to Illinois lawyers, education and services to the public.

The value of TREES to a community

*Plant a tree and watch it grow;
local Arbor Day events celebrate the beauty and necessity of trees*

Arbor Day is a nationally celebrated observance that encourages tree planting and tree care. It was founded in 1872 in response to a Nebraska proclamation urging settlers and homesteaders in that prairie state to plant trees that would provide shade, shelter, fruit, fuel and beauty for residents of the largely treeless plains.

On the first Arbor Day, more than one million trees were planted in Nebraska's communities and on its farms. The Arbor Day idea was promoted by J. Sterling Morton, editor of the Nebraska City News, who later helped the idea spread to neighboring states and eventually to all of the United States and many other nations.

National Arbor Day is celebrated each year on the last Friday in April. Celebrate Arbor Day in a personal way by planting a tree yourself or join in one of the local celebrations listed below.

Arbor Day in Antioch

On Saturday, April 28, the Antioch Arbor Day Committee will again give away five free seedlings to anyone who will plant and care for them. The Austrian Pine trees, 14-22-inches in height will be given away at Williams Park Pavilion between 10 a.m. and noon during Antioch's Annual Arbor Day planting program. Only 800 trees will be available for the free tree program. If any trees remain, they will be given out at noon on a first come-first served basis for no charge.

Volunteers will be planting trees at the Antioch Metra Station.

Plant a tree

The Libertyville Parks and Recreation department will celebrate Arbor Day on Saturday, April 28 at Riverside Park, east end of Golf Rd. in Libertyville with a "Plant A Tree Celebration." Take the opportunity to do something beneficial for the environment and the community.

Festivities begin at 10 a.m. and include a presentation on the importance of trees and how to properly plant them. Each family that helps plant a tree will have a personalized tag to go the planted tree. Bring your own shovel. Cost is $25 per family. Call 918-7275 for more information.

Microburst recovery

The City and Park District of Highland Park will begin planting trees on Saturday, April 28 as a celebration of Arbor Day and as a recovery of last years May "microburst" that destroyed hundreds of dignified neighborhood trees. Residents donated nearly 150 trees through a city sponsored program.

Arbor Day celebrations begin in Sunset Woods Park, located in downtown Highland Park, at 2:30 p.m. Family activities, tree care demos and refreshments are included in this free event. Winner of the tree ring counting contest will have a tree planted in his honor. Call 433-6901 for more information.

Free Shade Trees

Ten free shade trees will be given to each person who joins The National Arbor Day Foundation during April as part of the non-profit Foundation's Trees for America campaign.

The ten shade trees are Red Oak, Sugar Maple, Weeping Willow, Green Ash, Thornless Honeylocust, Pin Oak, River Birch, Tulip tree, Silver Maple, and Red Maple.

"These trees were selected to provide shade and beauty, and a variety of forms, leaf shapes, and beautiful fall colors," John Rosenow, the Foundation's president, said.

The trees will be shipped postpaid at the right time for planting in April or May with enclosed planting instructions. The six to twelve-inch trees are guaranteed to grow or they will be replaced free of charge.

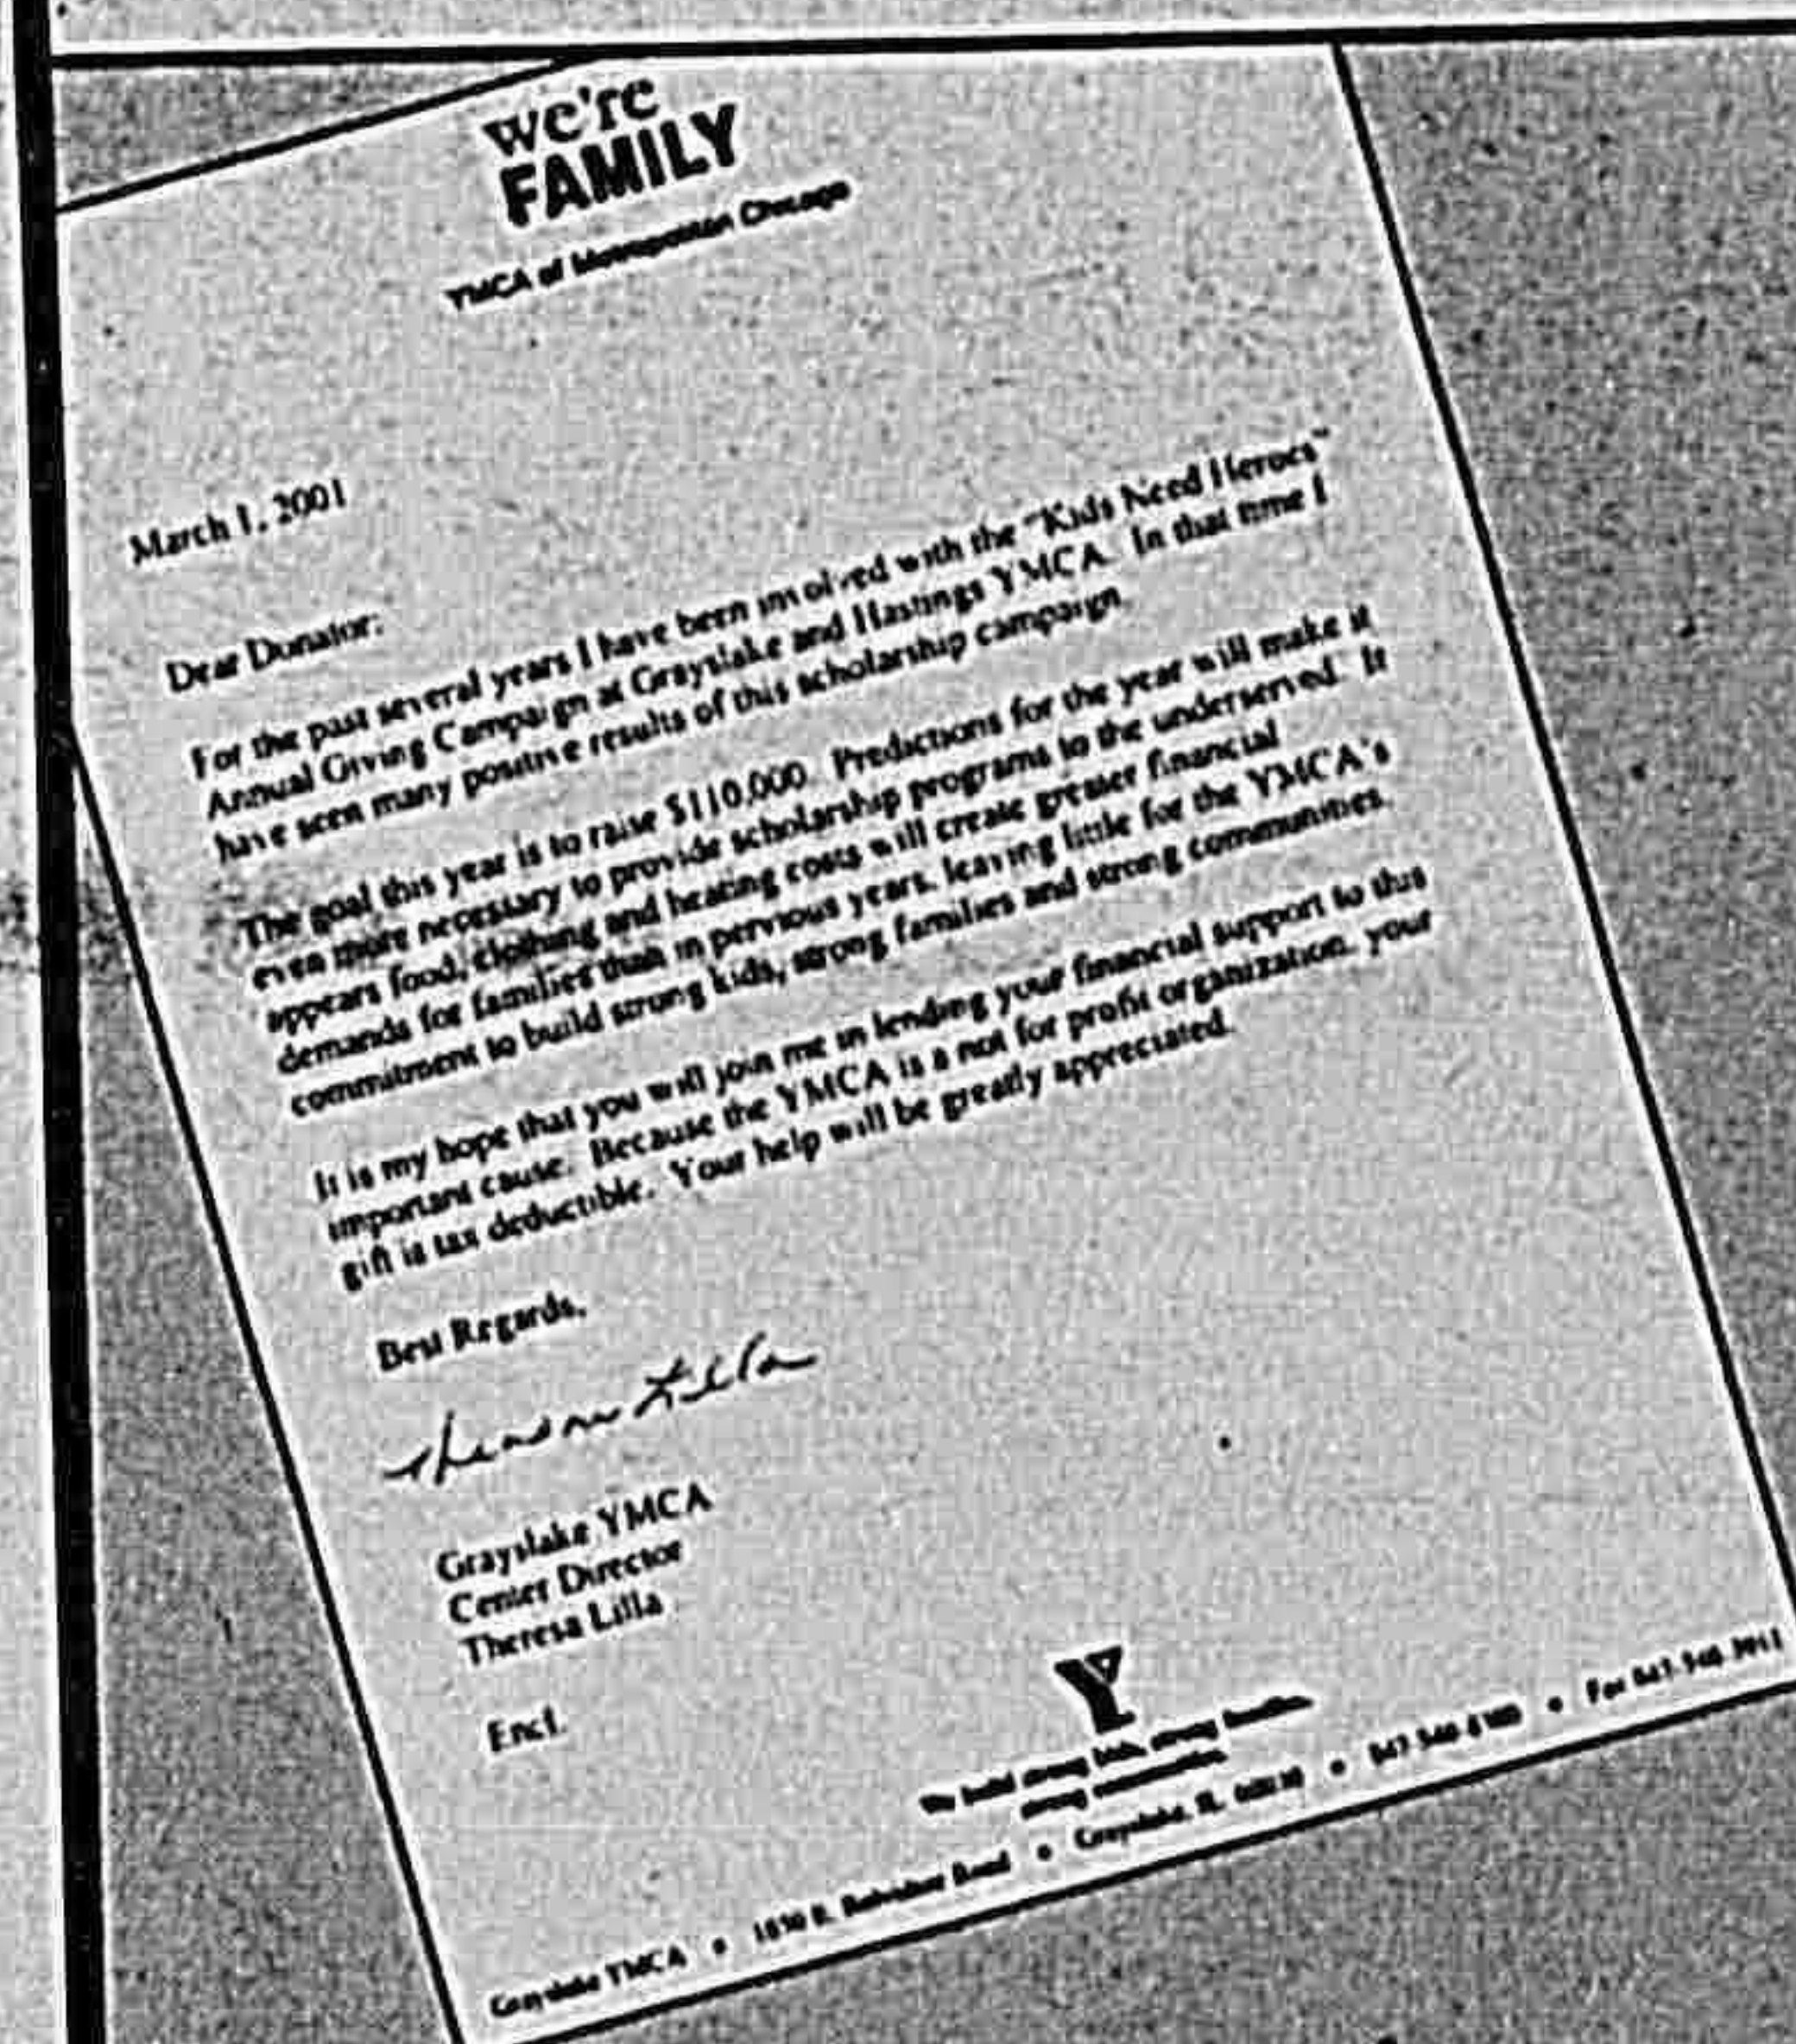

To become a member of the Foundation and receive the free trees, send a $10 contribution to Ten Free Shade Trees, National Arbor Day Foundation, 100 Arbor Ave., Nebraska City, NE 68410, postmarked by April 30

STATISTICS ON HOW IMPORTANT TREES ARE IN A COMMUNITY

•The net cooling effect of a young, healthy tree is equivalent to ten room-size air conditioners operating 20 hours a day. U.S. Department of Agriculture

•Landscaping, especially with trees, can increase property values as much as 20 percent. Management Information Services/ICMA

•There are about 60-to 200-million spaces along our city streets where trees could be planted. This translates to the potential to absorb 33 million more tons of CO2 every year, and saving $4 billion in energy costs. National Wildlife Federation

•Shade from trees could save up to $175 per year (per structure) in air conditioning costs. Dr. Lowell Ponte

•The planting of trees means improved water quality, resulting in less runoff and erosion. Wooded areas help prevent the transport of sediment and chemicals into streams. USDA Forest Service

•In laboratory research, visual exposure to settings with trees has produced significant recovery from stress within five minutes, as indicated by changes in blood pressure and muscle tension. Dr. Roger S. Ulrich Texas A&M University

•Trees can be a stimulus to economic development, attracting new business and tourism. Commercial retail areas are more attractive to shoppers, apartments rent more quickly, tenants stay longer, and space in a wooded setting is more valuable to sell or rent.—The National Arbor Day Foundation

•One acre of forest absorbs six tons of carbon dioxide and puts out four tons of oxygen. This is enough to meet the annual needs of 18 people.—U.S. Department of Agriculture

Trees reduce energy costs

•Trees have been called the "low tech" solution to energy conservation. Studies have shown that parts of cities without cooling shade from trees can literally be "heat islands," with temperatures as much as 12 degrees Fahrenheit higher than surrounding areas.

A Safe Place celebrates Volunteer Appreciation Month

"The issue of domestic violence has finally come out as a serious issue and is no longer a private matter. Police, judges, and social services agencies are recognizing domestic violence as a serious problem and are helping to do something about it. It is nice to be a part of that effort," A Safe Place volunteer Pam Kopach said.

A Safe Place/Lake County Crisis Center is celebrating April as National Volunteer Appreciation Month with a weekly article on their outstanding volunteers. Through the efforts of all their volunteers, A Safe Place succeeds in achieving their ultimate goal of rebuilding healthy, safe and violence free lives.

Volunteer Pam Kopach of Lake Forest has volunteered for A Safe Place for seven years. She spends two days a week volunteering at the Safe Room at the Lake County Courthouse for A Safe Place's court advocacy program. Kopach assists domestic violence victims in filing orders of protection against their abusers, and also accompanies victims as they testify against their abusers in domestic violence court. Court advocates are vital in assisting women with obtaining the protection they need from their abusers. Last fiscal year, A Safe Place's court advocates assisted women in filing 1,325 emergency orders, 14 interim orders and 478 plenary orders of protection.

Kopach said what she liked best about volunteering at the courthouse is that, "I am able to help victims of domestic violence receive immediate protection. I feel we give them hope because we believe their story and advocate on their behalf. Often, it is the first time someone believes them."

When asked why she volunteers, Kopach states "I can go home at night and feel like I made a difference and that makes me come back. I am making a contribution, even if it is only a sympathetic ear."

Volunteers are vital to every single program A Safe Place offers, from staffing the crisis line to assisting victims in obtaining orders of protection at the Lake County Courthouse. The countless hours contributed by these dedicated people allow the message of A Safe Place to be communicated to thousands of citizens throughout the Lake County area at community events and civic organization meetings, health fairs and prevention education programs at schools.

A Safe Place holds several volunteer trainings each year. The next 40-hour training begins June 2. If interested call Autumn Franger, Director of Community Outreach, Education and Training at 249-5147.

This center serves victims of domestic violence and their children throughout Lake, McHenry and northern Cook counties. Services include emergency shelter, court advocacy, individual and group counseling, children's counseling, as well as community services such as professional, civic and prevention education programs. This is a non-profit agency in Lake County providing abuser treatment services. A 24-hour HELP LINE can be reached at 249-4450.

Pops Highwood, 214 Green Bay Rd., will provide the setting for a jazz and blues festival with artists not usually seen in suburban venues, from Tuesday, May-Saturday, May 5. Recording artists on the Delmark Records label, many of whom have never performed before on the North Shore, will showcase their talent at the jazz club.

"We're proud to play host to these outstanding artists and the Chicago-based Delmark Record label which has done so much for unique artists in the city," says Tom Verhey, owner of Pops Highwood. "It's really exciting to bring such top blues personalities as Big Time Sarah to perform on the North Shore for the first time." Each weekend night of the Blu-zz festival will feature two acts, one jazz and one blues, on each side of the venue. The cover charge is $7 and no reservations are accepted.

The festival line-up is as follows: Tuesday May 1 at 8:30 p.m., Rockin' Johnny Band; Wednesday, May 2 at 8:30 p.m., Jimmy Burns Band; Thursday, May 3 at 8:30 p.m., James Wheeler Band; Friday, May 4-8:30 p.m., Saturday, May 5 at 8:30 p.m., Big Time Sarah Band. These blues groups will play on the bar side of the venue. Eddie Johnson/Michael Raynor Quartet-Friday, May 4 at 8:30 p.m. and on the club side of the venue will be Franz Jackson Quartet on Saturday, May 5 at 8:30 p.m.

Founded in 1953, Delmark Records founder Bob Koester believes that part of the label's survival is due to the fact that he doesn't have to like or even understand everyone that he records. He is also the owner of the famous Jazz Record mart where former notable employees include harmonica player Charlie Musselwhite and guitarist Mike Bloomfield and Chicago's Jazz Showcase and B.L.U.E.S proprietors Joe Segal and Pete Crawford, among others. He thinks his most important contribution is being the first to record members of the Association for the Advancement of Creative Musicians. He wants to be able to give jazz and blues musicians with something unique or important to say, the vehicle from which to be heard. Delmark's catalog ranges from the down-home blues of Big Joe Williams to avant-garde jazz.

Pops Highwood bar area is open from 5 p.m.-1 a.m. from Monday-Saturday, with live music. The Jazz Club is open from 7 p.m.-2 a.m. Fridays and Saturdays with live music and dancing in a smoke-free environment.

Free parking is available. For reservations and information, call 266-1313.

Libra - Sept 23/Oct 23

Don't take a close friend's comment the wrong way, Libra. This person doesn't mean to insult you; he or she is just joking. So, lighten up a bit. The person whom you've been seeing asks you an important question on Tuesday. Think about what you really want before answering him or her.

Scorpio - Oct 24/Nov 22

You have a busy week ahead of you. So, don't slack off. While you just want to relax, you know that you can't right now. Instead, you must buckle down, and get to work. Your efforts will lead to a financial reward. A close friend needs a shoulder to cry on. Be there for him or her.

Capricorn - Dec 22/Jan 20

Stand your ground when a loved one tries to force you to do something with which you don't agree. You know the difference between right and wrong, and what this person is asking of you is wrong. So, don't do it. While he or she will be upset, you know that you're making the correct decision. Be proud of yourself.

Aquarius - Jan 21/Feb 18

You have a full to-do list this week, Aquarius. However, don't let this upset you. If you set your priorities and work diligently, you certainly can get everything accomplished easily. A loved one needs romantic advice. Be honest with him or her.

Drivers beware: Farm equipment back on roads

As Lake County farmers head back out to the fields this spring and summer, motorists are likely to be sharing the road with a piece of farm equipment displaying a slow-moving vehicle sign.

Approximately 47 percent of all deaths resulting from unintentional injuries are caused by motor vehicles. Each year, collisions involving motor vehicles, and farm vehicles contribute to this statistic. The Lake County Farm Bureau would like to remind drivers how to drive defensively when sharing the road with slow-moving farm vehicles.

The most common accidents occur when motorists try to pass farm vehicles turning left. A tractor may appear to be pulling to the right side of the road to let vehicles pass, but is really preparing to make a wide left turn. Always be alert when driving for possible entrances to fields and driveways farmers may be turning into. Also, watch closely for hand and light signals.

Furniture auction aids Habitat for Humanity

Toms-Price uses a phrase to describe its home furnishings stores: "the way home." On May 11 those words will have an added meaning as it hosts a silent auction to benefit Habitat for Humanity Lake County.

As a non-profit organization, Habitat for Humanity is dedicated to eliminating poverty housing. Since the Lake County chapter's founding in 1989, volunteers and staff have built over 50 homes, housing over 200 people. Thanks to donors, sponsors and volunteers they continue to serve many families and communities.

The fund-raiser will take place in Lincolnshire at the Toms-Price Home Furnishings store on Friday, May 11 at 7 p.m. To highlight the evening, a silent auction will be held featuring over 50 pieces of new furniture, rugs, lamps and accessories donated by some of the best names in the industry including Baker, Century, Henredon, Hickory Chair, Karastan, Lexington, Milling Rd., Nichols & Stone and Waterford.

For more information about Habitat for Humanity, call Jeanne Kelly at 623-1020. For other information regarding the auction, call David Platt at (630) 668-7878.

Sensitive caregivers help avoid behavior problems

Consistent support from a sensitive caregiver can help children avoid behavior problems, even if they are in full-time day care, according to Barbara Haley of the Child Care Coalition of Lake County.

Haley is Quality Project director of the Coalition, which promotes quality care and education for children beginning at birth. She commented on the newly released findings of a National Institutes of Health long-term study. The study found that the more time children spend in child care, the more likely it was that they would exhibit behavior problems, such as aggressiveness, in kindergarten.

"Though the researchers followed children in a variety of settings, the study did not analyze specific elements of the care, such as consistency," Haley explained.

"We know that there should be one primary person the child can turn to," Haley said. "That's why the kind of quality child care programs we advocate put tremendous importance on the quality of the caregiver/teacher and his or her relationship with the children."

Haley said that quality child care requires training in how to provide emotional support for each child. "A good caregiver/teacher understands how children develop. In a quality center the teacher-child ratio is low enough so the caregiver/teacher can respond to individual needs."

The relationship between the child care provider and the parents is also important, according to Haley. "They should be a team, exchanging information freely," Haley said, "so there is a consistency through the child's day in and out of care."

Memorial service

College of Lake County student Claudia Cancinos hands out flowers before a memorial service at the Grayslake school for CLC student Cristina Valdez and Warren Township High School student Selene Martinez, both of whom died in an automobile accident in Chicago April 8. College of Lake County: strong and future-oriented

The College of Lake County has joined the nation's other community colleges in observing Community College Month. This year's observance was particularly noteworthy because 2001 marks the 100th anniversary of America's community colleges.

The nation's 1,100 plus community colleges each year educate about 10 million students, about 45 percent of all U.S. undergraduates. These students are of many ages, from many backgrounds, and they have varied educational goals. Some enroll to earn transfer credits toward a bachelor's degree; others to prepare for a career or to advance in one. Still others enroll to acquire basic skills or simply for personal enrichment.

The College of Lake County's students are equally diverse, according to Grethchen Naff, president of CLC. This spring 40 percent of CLC's students are 18-24 years of age, 25 percent are 24-34 years old and 34 percent are over age 35. Thirty-nine percent are enrolled in transfer programs, and an equal percent in career preparation programs. And, reflecting Lake County's changing demographics, 31 percent are minorities.

CLC's students enroll at various stages in their lives, and many return for lifelong learning. Sixty-five percent students come with a high school diploma or GED, however, 17 percent have already earned a college certificate or an associate, bachelor, masters or professional degree.

The performance of CLC students confirms their faith in the college, Naff said. Graduates of CLC's career programs working full-time earn an average annual salary of $31,000.

And according to data from public universities, CLC students who transfer to these institutions perform as well or better than students who began at the universities. Just as importantly, the subsequent career performance of CLC students compares favorably to students who began their college education at the universities.

Students and business people recognize that a good education is necessary in today's workplace. CLC is involved in many programs to ensure a seamless transition between educational levels and between education and work.

"We constantly evaluate program offerings, and this past year introduced 15 new academic programs that respond to the needs of students and employers," Naff said. "Of special note, in CLC's tradition of maximizing access to education, we added three new online degree options.

"We also continued a focus on meeting the specific needs of area businesses and governmental units. In this way, we will provide contract training for approximately 6,000 workers in Lake County this year, and we will assist more than 30,000 individuals through a partnership with the courts. Similarly, we will assist about 200 entrepreneurs in establishing or growing their businesses and 100 businesses in competing for government contracts.

"Likewise, we will teach English to 2,500 recent immigrants and assist 250 students in completing a GED. Similarly, we will continue to assist students in improving their job skills to leave welfare or reduce the amount received."

MARKET JOURNAL

DRIVERS

Patience is one of the best ways to avoid a slow-moving vehicle collision. "Even if you have to follow a tractor or combine for two miles at 20 miles per hour, it only takes six minutes of your time. That's about the same as waiting for two red lights," says Gregory Koeppen Lake County Farm Bureau Public Information Director. "When you find yourself behind a slow-moving vehicle, wait until you can safely pass and make sure you are visible to the equipment driver," adds Koeppen.

Due to the large difference in speed, it's common for motor vehicles to run into the rear end of a piece of farm equipment. It can be difficult to judge speed from a distance, so you should slow down as soon as you see a tractor or slow moving vehicle emblem.

The Lake County Farm Bureau would also like to remind Lake County residents of State of Illinois law prohibiting the use of the traditional Slow Moving Vehicle triangle as driveway and mailbox markers. "Improper use of slow moving vehicle (SMV) signs is now against the law and punishable by fines which increase in severity for subsequent violations," says Koeppen. "Drivers today see these signs as driveway markers and they no longer associate them with slow-moving vehicles and no longer use the caution they should around SMV's," added Koeppen.

SMV emblems are to be displayed only on farm implements, horse drawn vehicles and special mobile equipment any other use of the signs are illegal and citations will now be issued by state and Lake County authorities.

Look out for farm vehicles and practice safety while driving. Remember to slow down, keep you eyes on the road, wait until it is safe to pass and remove Slow Moving Vehicle signs from your driveways and mailboxes to avoid fines.

7 school systems being held hostage

By refusing to yield to public opinion and give up their seats on the deeply troubled Round Lake Unit School District, three school board members are holding seven school districts hostage.

Like a virus, Round Lake's long-standing financial problems are spreading. Because one solution involves dissolution of Round Lake Dist. 116, six neighboring districts are now impacted—Lake Villa Elementary, Grant High, Big Hollow Elementary, Gavin Elementary, Grayslake Elementary and Grayslake High.

Due to a quirk in the election law, two board members voted out of office in the April 3 election serve until November. Another board member, who declined to seek re-election, is standing with the two defeated members to serve a full term.

Out of frustration with old leadership and an effort to ventilate the complicated mess, village leaders, a group of parents, and Guy Finley, a newly seated board member through appointment, are calling for defeated board members Laura McGuire and Darleen Friedlund, and retiring board member David Murphy to step down now so new leaders can be installed.

We heartily endorse demands for the resignation of the three outgoing board members. To further the reorganization process, the replacement of Supt. Mary Davis also is in order. If the window is being opened, open it as widely as possible.

The state oversight panel that has been running the district's financial affairs during the current school year has hired a consultant to work with the district and the neighboring schools. It hardly seems fair, and it certainly is impractical for all parties involved to have to deal with lame duck board members and a superintendent who has been piloting a sinking ship.

Various reorganization scenarios are being bantered about. Even dissolution of District 116, which is being openly advocated by more and more disgusted taxpayers. There are all sorts of reasons that the current unit system should be retained, not the least being that it is unthinkable to dump District 116 problems on the six neighboring districts.

There is reason to believe that District 116 can dig itself out of its financial morass. An overriding reason is the $40 million currently being raised to operate the K through 12 system. It's all about leadership and willingness of citizens to make the difficult decisions to restore solvency of their public school system. Voters took an important step by electing new board members who ran under the interesting banner of the Clean Slate. Indeed, never was there a more pressing time to clean the slate.

McGuire, Friedlund, Murphy and Davis should step aside to pave the way for fresh ideas and renewed energy.

Waterway Agency reaches maturity

Founded 15 years ago to improve water quality, aid flood control and protect safety on the Chain O'Lakes and Fox River, the Fox Waterway Agency can be described as "having arrived." After turbulent formative years, the non-tax supported governmental body has won the respect of both the boating public and other agencies with jurisdiction over one of Lake County's important natural resources.

The agency is about to begin another boating season ready to initiate an aggressive dredging season and do its part to insure the safety and enjoyment of more than 25,000 boaters who will be plying the waters of the Chain and the Fox River this summer.

Key to the future of the agency is implementing a 10-year plan that includes construction of soil drying sites and island restoration. Chairman James F. McKinley Jr. noted with gratification that the agency has been accepted as a viable entity by regulatory agencies and state legislators.

In 2000, the agency operated on a budget of $2,052,821 with income derived from 76 percent user fees, 15 percent from interest, map sales and miscellaneous sources and nine percent grants. Waterway improvements utilized 76 percent of income with 19 percent going for administration and five percent allocated for public safety/education.

Once regarded as an upstart, the agency now interfaces on a partnership basis with other governmental arms like the U.S. Geological Survey, sheriff's offices from both Lake and McHenry counties, the Illinois Dept. of Natural Resources and the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. U.S. Geological Survey confirmed that the Chain is filling in at an alarming rate, a finding that fully supports aggressive dredging as an aid to navigation and a method for helping control flooding.

Operation of a 29-member advisory committee representing boaters, hunters, fishermen and environmentalists has cemented ties with the public and enhanced public relations. The agency continues to expand volunteerism with its Waterway Water Watch group.

McKinley notes with pride that the agency has gained a reputation as a "can-do" environmental caretaker. It wasn't easy, but the Fox Waterway Agency has arrived at the point where it is achieving—and then some—what founders intended.

VIEWPOINT

DARing children to be drug free

A burly police officer with 26 years in law enforcement never tires in his task of counseling youngsters on the dangers of substance abuse.

As a command officer, Lt. Rich Becmer happily includes teaching the D.A.R.E. program as part of his duties which include serving as juvenile officer. DARE—Drug Abuse Resistance Education—is the widely acclaimed and sometimes criticized 17-lesson program designed to steer impressionable and vulnerable fifth and sixth graders away from the "gateway" drugs—alcohol, tobacco and marijuana.

Founded in California, DARE brings a specially trained, uniformed officer together with fifth and sixth graders to establish a unique relationship. The DARE instructor becomes a trusted adult and role model at weekly sessions that culminate with an impressive graduation exercise.

With the Fox Lake police department his entire career, Becmer has adapted the core DARE program to local needs and conditions. After watching a boy he coached in junior football die from a glue sniffing experience, Becmer added inhalants to the list of "gateway" substances.

Ever the realist, Becmer confidently asserts, "I don't spend much time on the 'gateway' lesson because the kids know all about those drugs. I'm comfortable with my own style of teaching. Overall, I'd say my job is to open up lines of communication with the children in my class."

Addressing a group of adults on how DARE works, the crew-cut, no-nonsense policeman, quickly established his enthusiasm for a program cynics frequently regard as "not real." Becmer says he's forever amazed that fifth graders don't understand that they have a right to say "no." "We talk a lot about establishing values and building confidence," remarked Becmer, whose family ranges from toddlers to an 18-year-old daughter.

The crew-cut cop admitted how angry he gets over parents who condone teenage drinking "because everyone is drinking." Becmer bristles. "Everyone isn't drinking or smoking pot." The earnest policeman also describes how provoked he gets from parents who describe their own youth experiments with alcohol or drugs. "They seem to get a kick out of it. I don't understand. Why do they tell their kids?"

Becmer says society has a misperception of the extent of the drug culture. Even at the peak of the abuse years which Becmer regards as 1970-78, only 27 percent of the population was involved in substance abuse, he declared.

Presenting himself as stern, but open and fair, Becmer teaches that gang members are cowards. "We teach that violence is more than fighting and drive-by shooting. Dirty looks, making gestures, gossiping, being mean are forms of violence."

The police commander left no doubt about his impatience with police agencies that get caught up with the minutia of gang signs, gang talk and gang apparel. "That contributes to the mystic of gangs, in my opinion. When I arrest someone, it's for breaking the law, not being a gang member."

Lt. Becmer offers promise to parents. If their children steer clear of addictive substances through high school age, they won't become abusers. "I know that from my experience working with kids," Becmer affirms.

In the middle

A firestorm of parental protest has been ignited in Grayslake Elementary School Dist. 46 over introduction of an outbased education (OBE) proposal. In the middle are board of education member Ursula Ahern, who is quoted in a landmark book on the controversial learning system, and Supt. Kurt Anderson, who is spearheading educational overhaul at the school that includes parts of Lake Villa and the Round Lake area. Questioning parents are operating an e-mail team that is delving into OBE results in other communities.

Still battling

Re-elected Libertyville Township Supervisor FT. "Mike" Graham is strident in victory, igniting new battles because he hasn't won the war for more open space. Graham scorched Republican leaders for backing one of his opponents, Gary Franzen, who he accused of favoring urban sprawl. Lumped in Mike's sprawl camp are State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis (R-Zion), Coroner Barbara Richardson, County Clerk Willard Helander, Libertyville Mayor Duane Laska and Green Oaks Mayor Tom Adams.

Waiting for reply

Hank Jacoby of Milton Rd. sends along a story about Lindy's, the famous New York restaurant, where the waiters were notoriously aloof and independent. One evening a customer frantically called a waiter. "Quick, a glass of water for my wife, she's choking." The waiter looked back and nonchalantly replied, "I'll get your waiter. That's not my table."

Jacoby, a resident of rural Wauconda, relates the story to the development crisis in Lake County. "To my way of thinking our first line of defense may well lie in the imposition of realistic impact fees that will make developers responsible for the costs that their developments heap upon the communities they invade." Jacoby said he contacted two elected officials about impact fees and has yet to hear from them. At least at Lindy's, Jacoby commented, the waiter said, "That's not my table."

Old barn

What is believed to be Lake County's second oldest barn is located on the waste disposal site operated on Wilson Rd., Grant Township, by Baxter Healthcare. The barn, a simple gable roofed structure, has been carefully preserved by Baxter and still is in use. It is on property once farmed by the Rowden family. Descendants still live nearby in a vintage brick farm house. The barn is of the style built in the late 1860s and early 1870s.

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

Two CLC Andersons sparking confusion

Now that there will be two Andersons, both hailing from Grayslake and both with the first initial "R," things are expected to get a little confusing on the College of Lake County board of trustees. Maybe even a little dicey.

Backers of William M. Griffin for re-election to the CLC board, say Robert C. Anderson went out of his way to trade on the name of Atty. Richard "Rich" Anderson, a member of the CLC board for 27 years and current chairman.

In a lottery system for ballot placement in the April 3 consolidated election, Robert C. Anderson, a self-employed graphics designer, drew second place to Barbara D. Oilschlager, a long-time board member who drew first spot. Both were elected to full six-year terms.

Griffin, a veteran of board service and highly respected, drew the last slot in a five-person field. Griffin is a native of Antioch, graduate of Warren High School, and a resident of the Lake Bluff-Lake Forest area.

Richard Anderson, who has two years remaining on his term, confirmed confusion over the identical names. He said he was being congratulated for winning, but had to explain to puzzled well-wishers, "I've got two years to serve."

Robert Anderson is married to a CLC faculty member known as a union activist. The spousal connection is giving rise to speculation that he might face conflict of interest situations when seated in November.

Advising mayor

By naming a 13-person transition team,

Anderson: He's the first Anderson.

Drew: Hi-tech transition.

Beattie: Facing a clash.

newly elected Waukegan Mayor Dan Drew indicated he is going to take a high tech approach to governing. The team includes prominent Republicans Charles "Chuck" Bartels and 4th Ward Ald. Ray Vukovich. As city treasurer, Democrat Drew was regarded as a "shadow mayor" so opponents in the April 3 ballot are wondering about the purpose of the special advisory body, which is headed by State Sen. Terry Link (D-Vernon Hills).

Remap changes

Members of the Independent GOP majority are not hiding their glee that a re-districted Lake County Board will pit two old-guard Republicans against each other if they choose to run for re-election next year. As approved, John Schullen of Libertyville and Mary Beattie of Lake Forest "will be" in the same district. They are at odds with the majority from time to time even though they are in the same party. Another notable change is the creation of a separate Round Lake district to reflect population shifts.

Power retires

Waukegan public affairs won't be the same without former Alderman Don Weakley, who will be retiring from active politics May 4. Weakley was the close confidant of outgoing Mayor Bill Durkin and long considered the "power behind the throne."

Fast start

Roy Czajkowski is off to a fast start as an aide to Congressman

Mark Kirk in the Waukegan district office of the 10th Congressional District. Attuned to the seven-day-week pace, Czajkowski has special skills in reaching out to minority groups that Kirk is cultivating as a full-service representative.

League disbands

Members of the Libertyville-Mundelein Area League of Women Voters are affiliating with neighboring League units or dropping out of politics after voting to disband. Judy Berliant of Green Oaks, active in the Illinois League, said membership had been dwindling because of work schedules and lack of interest. Lake Forest-Lake Bluff League and the Lake County League will benefit from new affiliations.

Correction

Gilda Torrez is Waukegan Township Republican chairperson, not Charles "Chuck" Williams as was stated in this column. Party Lines stands corrected.

Land control?

In early January the Supreme Court ruled that the Army Corp. of Engineers had overstepped its bound, controlling isolated wetlands that are not adjacent to intrastate waterways. In early April Storm Water Management of Lake County published notice that it was rewriting its ordinance to take control over the same isolated wetlands.

If this ordinance passes, any property that has low areas that hold water for any period of time will be under their control. This ordinance has nothing to do with storm water and everything to do with controlling the rights of landowners to build on their property. In the past many landowners have had their land rendered useless or had to pay large sums of money to "wetlands banks" just to be able to build on their property. If passed, this ordinance will be nothing more than another set of governmental hoops to jump through or in some cases your property will be rendered useless.

Storm Water Management was enacted to control flooding in Lake County. Isolated wetlands not adjacent to navigable waterways has nothing to do with storm water management or flooding. It is another means by which county government can control what the private citizens do with their property. Apparently the Supreme Court of the United States doesn't matter to Lake County Storm Water Management.

If you live on a pond, lake or have low spots on your property that collect water you had better pay attention and contact Storm Water Management and your county board representative and voice your objection to this ordinance.

Mayor applauded

As Marilyn Shineflug ends her term as mayor of Antioch it would be a good time to thank her for all she has done for our community in the eight years she served its citizens. In spite of the growth, this area still comes together as a village for many activities throughout the year that keep the citizens feeling as though this is still a "small town."

Activities like the Taste of Antioch, the 4th of July celebration, and the many parades lend themselves to families, which is one of the reasons so many people choose Antioch as a place to raise their children. The downtown area has been renovated during Mayor Shineflug's term, with street lamps, new storefronts, and beautiful brick sidewalks. The area behind Main Street, which at one time was an eyesore, now has a band shell as well as a nature walk through the wetlands.

The village also has sidewalks that connect most areas together. Tiffany Road, an area that leads to two of our schools, was becoming increasingly busy as the area grew, and the children who walked to W.C. Petty and Antioch Upper Grade or rode their bikes, had to compete with cars for a piece of the road. A new sidewalk was put in place to give these students a safe place to travel. All walkways were plowed during the winter so people could use them instead of having to take to the streets.

Thank you, Mayor Shineflug, and best of luck to your successor.

War party fails to scalp mascot

Hats off to Huntley High! Three cheers for the Redskins! Just up the road in McHenry County, despite protests from a few Native Americans and their sympathizers, Huntley High School's board members voted last week to keep alive their Redskin mascot. The decision was greeted with applause from more than 100 people in the school library.

Current athletes, former athletes and coaches told the crowd that students, parents and fans "love the mascot and have nothing but respect for the mascot."

Larry Kahl, a former athlete who now teaches and coaches there, said, "The Redskin mascot has always been held in high regard."

Protesters, they're everywhere nowadays. Where do those gadflies find the time? Don't they have jobs to work, wages to earn, homes and families to tend, dogs to play frisbee with and kitty litter to clean?

They really should get a life and give the rest of us a break.

Caving in under pressure, several Illinois schools in recent years have dropped their Redskin mascots and various Indian team names. Nationwide, almost 600 high schools and some universities have done likewise.

Dictionaries do define "redskin" as a term for American Indian, "usually taken to be offensive." But members and fans of sports teams don't consider the word in that vein.

In Huntley, during a village debate on the subject, many in the audience wore Redskin varsity jackets or newly printed "Redskin Pride" T-shirts.

Last week, in Chicago, opponents of the University of Illinois' marvelous mascot, Chief Illiniwek, staged a protest outside Gov. George Ryan's office, calling on him to rescind his support for that precious tradition.

In "Name That Team!" a book about sports mascots and nicknames, author Mike Lessiter writes about Illiniwek:

"For more than 60 years his dramatic war dance during halftime has been among the most colorful and memorable traditions associated with college athletics."

Illiniwek is always portrayed by a carefully selected current student who is talented enough to give a sensational, electrifying performance.

When Lessiter called the chief's war dances colorful and memorable, he could have added emotional. Some Illinois graduates and other fans have admitted to me that the performances bring tears to their eyes.

Baseball's Cleveland Indians and Atlanta Braves, and football's Washington Redskins, are professional teams that have ignored such coercion. The famed Redskins band, founded in 1937, was the first of its kind in professional football and led to the formation of many other marching bands.

I keep wondering if and when the annoying gadflies will go after Chicago's hockey team, the Blackhawks, named after an Indian chief and also after the fighting unit in which the team's original owner, Major Frederic McLaughlin, served during the first World War.

Needless to say, they would get nowhere. Professional sports teams don't tend to cave in the way schools sometimes do.

Indian mascots long have been treated with pride and affection. I can't help wondering why the ever-present protesters failed to find fault when teams in the new NFL (Extreme Football League), in order to sell violence, nicknamed their teams the Hitmen, the Enforcers, the Demons, the Maniax, the Rage and the Outlaws.

Steps to prepare for a doctor's visit/improve your healthcare

During the past decade, we have witnessed unprecedented advances in medical knowledge and technology. For example:

- Many new medications are becoming available for both the treatment and prevention of diseases.

- Newly developed tests are not only more accurate, but are also quicker and more tolerable than the older techniques.

- Some conditions that formerly required major surgeries and prolonged hospitalizations are being corrected by minimally invasive procedures with an overnight hospital stay.

This exciting pace of medical innovations shows no sign of letting up.

Meanwhile, many doctors and patients alike are disenchanted with the healthcare delivery system in our country. Doctors are frustrated by the regulatory burden and frequently complain that their time to care for their patients is limited. Additionally, many patients feel that they are not receiving the timely and quality care they deserve.

There is no quick remedy for our ailing medical delivery system. However, doctors and patients should work together to improve their relationship. Both parties can accomplish this through better patient education, more open communication, and a lot of patience and understanding. Traditionally, it is the doctors' responsibility to establish trusting relationships with their patients. However, there are a number of steps that patients can and should take to help themselves and their doctors.

Dr. Dennis Lee, founder of MedicineNet.com offers these suggestions:

How can I help my doctor?

You can help your doctor by organizing your medical history prior to your doctor's visit.

Here is how:

1. Pay attention to your symptom(s). What is the location, duration, and character of the discomfort? What brings them on? What aggravates them? What relieves them?
2. List all your medications and dosing schedules. Include all prescription and non-prescription medications, supplements, vitamins, herbs, and minerals. You might bring them with you to show your doctor. That way, if there are questions about the dosing, there is no confusion.
3. List prior and current medical conditions such as diabetes, high blood pressure, heart attacks, or cancers.
4. List prior surgeries (appendectomy, hysterectomy, knee replacement, etc.), procedures (colonoscopy, mammography, upper GI x-rays, etc.), and hospitalizations. Bring any hospitalization records and procedure reports in your possession.

What questions to ask my doctor?

1. What do you think is causing my problem?
2. Is there more than one condition (disease) that could be causing my problem?
3. What tests will you do to diagnose my problem and which of the underlying conditions is present?
4. How accurate are the tests for diagnosing the problem and the conditions?
5. How safe are the tests?
6. What is the likely course of this condition? What is the long-term outlook with and without treatment?
7. What are my treatment options? How effective is each treatment option? What are the benefits versus the risks of each treatment option?
8. If my symptoms worsen, what should I do on my own? When should I contact you?
9. Are you aware of each of the medications that I am taking? Can they adversely interact with the medications you are prescribing for me?
10. Should we monitor for side effects of the medications that you are prescribing or for their interactions with other medications I am taking?

How about follow-up care?

Arriving at an accurate diagnosis and optimal treatment often takes time and may require repeated visits and tests. Be patient and communicate with your doctor. Here are some suggestions:

1. Do not stop prescribed medications on your own, even if your symptoms have resolved. If your prescription runs out, ask your doctor whether you should obtain a refill.
2. If the prescribed treatment is not helping you, or is causing side effects, inform your doctor right away. He/she may have to rethink the diagnosis and/or change the treatment.
3. If the doctor cannot offer you a firm diagnosis or help you with your symptoms despite repeated visits, it is OK to ask for another opinion. Most doctors will be glad to help their patients solicit second opinions or specialty consultations.
4. Always ask your doctor about your test results. Never assume that everything must be fine if you do not hear from the doctor's office.
5. Inform your doctor if you are using alternative medicine or non-prescription remedies because some of these remedies may interact with your prescribed medications.

This teacher is causing her own headaches!

Hi Dr. Singer,

We have a problem that we have seen you write about before, and we have tried to do all the things we know you have suggested in your column, but, unfortunately, we are coming up against some opposition that is frustrating to us and we thought you might be able to tell us something more. Our daughter is in 2nd grade and is not doing her work during her class work time. She is doing just about anything and everything else she can while sitting at her desk instead of doing her work, so consequently, she is not finishing her work and her grades are suffering for it. We have seen her be able to control herself in other arenas and feel that it is not her ability to work. She isn't even trying or starting in class. She knows that if she waits long enough, she gets help with it. That is frustrating enough, but what is even more frustrating is that we have told the teacher that if she does not get her work done or at least try to start it, she should not get to go out for recess. Despite our telling the teacher that, our daughter is still going out for recess. Additionally, we are getting calls all the time about her not doing her work and we get the added enjoyment of having to get her work done at home. My feeling is that if she does not do the work, she should not have any fun in school or at home for that matter and I have told that to her teacher time and again. What do we do? Sign me...a frustrated parent!

Hi Frustrated,

I am equally frustrated because while you are seeing this with your one child, I get to watch this exact scenario over and over and over again with lots of kids. The main problem we have in our society today, and it seems to

PARENT'S PLACE

Dr. Sherri Singer

be rampant, is that we have a lot of teachers and parents believing that somehow they can just talk a child into doing something he or she does not want to do. They seem to believe that if they are nice and give them all kinds of fun stuff and or lots of extra room to finish it, that somehow magically, the problem will go away and the child will just start to do what he or she is supposed to do. This is completely backwards. It doesn't ever happen that way and never will. I will point out the way that kids have changed in school over time as my support for this argument. When I went to school, we didn't dare act up because there were punishments. I don't mean physical, but there were punishments. We didn't fool around, we didn't act out and we didn't come to school without our work being done and done neatly. Those were the expectations. All of those things are being violated today in an almost rampant lack of any punishment for any behavior whatsoever and we all have the "privilege" of watching kid after kid after kid get labeled with all kinds of horrible labels that will follow them their whole lives, when the real answer is that the expectations have weakened and the punishment has disappeared. No one wants to punish a child anymore in our country. I will tell you that it still remains a very important part of training them to know what they have to do to survive and what they cannot do. A lot of people believe that mother birds pushing their babies out of the nest to

Subs for good service

Midwestern Regional Medical Center President and CEO Roger Cary donned an apron and jumped into the fray when the hospital administration thanked staff members for their good work after a busy month of March. In the fifth floor solarium, Cary served up a submarine sandwich to marketing department assistant Elaine Wells while Vice President of Patient Care Services Anne Melsner gets ready to deliver the dessert. The hospital, which also houses Cancer Treatment Centers of America, has been at or near capacity since rebuilding from the February 2000 plane crash damage.

Natural fence answers options for enclosures

We all know the adage, "Good fences make good neighbors," but which type of fence is the best? Now that spring has arrived, you may be going outside and wishing for a little more privacy.

Or maybe you have a new puppy and need to contain him. There are many types of fence — from chain link to vinyl to living.

A "living fence" is a great option for those without an immediate need for a fence. One approach — the expensive one — is to purchase full-grown trees or shrubs. A more affordable option is buying young trees or shrubs and letting them grow up to create your fence.

"If properly maintained, not only will a living fence last a lifetime, but it is aesthetically pleasing and better for the environment," said Tammy Burdzinski of Home Depot.

In the Midwest, the most common types of trees and shrubs used for property borders are:

- Arborvitae — an evergreen tree with fragrant leaves that can reach 20 feet in height.
- Yew — another evergreen that is slow-growing and strong, but rarely exceeds 3 feet.
- Deciduous bushes (which lose their leaves in the fall), including:
 - Lilac — a large shrub that has purple flowers in the spring and remains green through the summer — can reach 10 feet in height.
 - Burning Bushes — leaves turn red in the fall — can grow to 6 or 8 feet tall.
 - Forsythia — bushes reach 5-10 feet in height, and have yellow flowers in the spring before leaves appear.
- Red Twig Dogwood — a very hearty bush that grows up to 10 feet in full sun to half-shade and has white flowers and attractive red-colored stems.

A garden expert can advise you on how close together the plants should be placed so that they will thrive and grow into a fence-like line.

Homeowners with a more immediate need, such as keeping animals contained or small children out of the road, can choose from traditional fences. Consider three different types:

- Chain link — the most durable, requiring little maintenance.
- Wood — aesthetically pleasing but requires some maintenance.
- Vinyl — comes in a variety of styles and requires less maintenance than wood.

"The cost of fencing, living or not, depends entirely on how much you need," said Burdzinski. "For example, utilizing small living plants in one-gallon containers could cost $200 for a 100-foot stretch. If you're not in a hurry, this may be the best option. Using mature 4- or 5-foot plants raises the cost to about $700 if you do it yourself, or nearly triple that if you hire an outside contractor."

By comparison, fencing the same straight 100-foot section of yard in 6-foot wood privacy fence would cost about $650 (with no gates).

Trimming Newspaper From Your Ad Budget Would Be Like Cutting Out Money To Close The Sale.

You've got their attention. You've piqued their interest. You've got them right smack up to the line. And then, just when they're ready to buy, you turn tail and walk away.

That's what happens when you don't run in newspaper. You're thumbing your nose at thousands of ready prospects and leaving the money behind. Because that's where most people make their decisions on where to shop and what to buy.

Studies show that 71% say newspaper is the place they turn to for shopping advice. They rate the information as four times more helpful than TV. Overwhelmingly more effective than direct mail. And the only source of information that gets them when they're actually in the mood to buy.

So, before you consider cutting newspaper for your budget, ask yourself: Are you also prepared to take a cut in sales?

Newspaper. It's The Best Way To Close A Sale.

Prep News and Notes

The Powerhouse Baseball Academy is now seeking 13-19-year-old players to participate in an intensive five-day instructional showcase camp at Florida's Cocoa Expo Sports Complex, June 24-28. The camp offers high school athletes from Illinois who would like to earn college scholarships, the opportunity to showcase their skills before 15 of the country's top college coaches.

"This is a wonderful opportunity for a serious baseball player to improve his skills dramatically and receive more exposure with college coaches in one week than most players receive in their whole careers," said Al Lopez, the event's director and former college coach at U. of Louisville.

The staff will include college coaches from baseball powerhouses like U. of Florida, Wake Forest U., Florida International, U. of Alabama, Clemson U. U. of Louisville, The Citadel, U. of Georgia and Hofstra U.

For more information and a free application, visit www.powerhouseacademy.com or call 1 (800) 723-6398. Limited spots are awarded on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Rosters

Lake Forest Academy announced that Gurnee's Meredith Roth is a member of the varsity girls softball team. Lisa Marchlewicz of Libertyville and Green Oaks native Lauren Krzynowek are members of the varsity girls soccer team. Meanwhile, LFA also announced that Drew Harger, also of Green Oaks, is a varsity member of the Caxy's boys volleyball squad.

Results

Boys Lacrosse

The Libertyville-Vernon Hills varsity boys Lacrosse club lost a 12-6 decision to Barrington. Last weekend Libertyville scored the first goal by Tyler Labrum, who was assisted by Steven Brooks in the opening minutes. But Barrington answered with a barrage of goals to seize the lead for good. Labrum would later add another goal while Brooks found the net twice. Ken Ormsby also connected on a goal while dishing out one assist for the Cats while Greer Hanlon also scored a goal. Eric Raup dished out two assists and Luke Thompson one.

The two teams will meet again May 10 as the Cats will look to avenge their only conference loss of the season.

Earlier in the week, the team cruised past Stevenson 14-6. The Cats took an early 3-goal lead and never looked back. Hanlon scored a hat trick while Ormsby, Steven Brooks and Labrum added two apiece. Ben Mosko, Brian Kosa, Matt Zivilik, Dan Yates and Phil Trimble added a goal apiece. Kapral again provided solid goaltending.

Transactions

Warren High School's Matt Ven Daele has signed a scholarship to play football at Valparaiso University beginning next fall. The 5-foot, 9-inch tailback led the county with nearly 1,500 yards and 23 touchdowns this past season. He was instrumental in the Devils claiming a share of the NSC title. They finished 9-2 overall, including a first-round playoff win over Romeoville.

And, Libertyville's Corrie Magnus has announced her plans to attend Toledo University and compete for the Lady Rocket volleyball team. Magnus, a member of the 2000 honorable mention All-Lake County team, was also a North Suburban All-Conference selection. Magnus was heavily recruited by numerous division 1 programs, including Oklahoma, Drake, Southern Illinois and Bradley. The Rockets compete in the Mid-American Conference of the NCAA. Magnus currently competes for the 18-1 Net Force Volleyball Club, who are coached by Mike Falk. The team competes throughout the Great Lake Region as well as nationally at festivals and tournaments.

Virtual government center huge font of information

Navigating the maze of government bureaucracies need not be daunting anymore. At a mouse-click, you can find your way through the virtual halls of the county government at www.co.lake.il.us.

The multi-paged website, with numerous links, can answer almost any question concerning Lake County.

The attractive, easy-to-read home page offers a quick index with hyperlinks to general information, history, people in government, press releases and other county sites.

The major portion of the page, however, is taken up by a "Highlights" section, offering news bytes and photos. The table of contents, reachable through a link at the bottom of each page, lists numerous resources.

County Board minutes and agendas are posted at this web site. Visitors can also find information about assessments, election services, taxes and real estate.

You might expect to find certain kinds of information at this site, such as zoning ordinances, phone numbers of officials, information about communities in the county or the much-publicized list of sex offenders, but there is much more available here than one would expect.

Need a copy of your birth certificate? Want to know about forest preserve golf courses? Need facts about marijuana? How about hints for time management for busy parents?

Every agency in the county has contributed a wealth of valuable information, and in some cases, even online forms, making it easier than ever for county residents and visitors to access county services.

The site is a double award winner. The Lake County Internet site was selected for inclusion in the 1997 Innovation Collection,

WWW.COM.WWW.COM

WWW.COM.WWW.COM
WWW.COM.WWW.COM

A review of sites of local interest by Brenda Balin-Beitscher, Staff Reporter housed at the Smithsonian Institution's Permanent Research Collection at the National Museum of American History in Washington, D.C. The second award was from the 1997 National Association of county Officers Awards of excellence Program.

"Lake County's site had a nice layout with a great deal of links, providing county information in a complete way," one of the judges noted.

The web site was started in December 1995 as one part of a four-part plan to upgrade and expand the county network infrastructure. The site became operational in March 1996, when election results were published.

"The web site is an original product of Lake County employees. The content is organized, written and published solely by Lake County staff. Each person who has contributed information has other job responsibilities, but recognizes the importance and potential benefits of the World Wide Web and the county's presence on the Internet." — from www.co.lake.il.us/press/awards.htm

The site is continually updated. Bookmark this site. It's an invaluable resource.

Warren United Blazers

The girls U-10 Blazer soccer team started out their season with hard fight, but added a loss to their record, losing to Mundelein Soccer 3-1. During the first half Jenny Haining, Laura Scheck, and Maren Dixon played strong defense in the back field, only forcing goalie Joree Green to make 5 saves.

In the second half goalie Rebecca Toler made 9 saves for the Blazers, while again, Haining along side Erin Kilroy and Nicole Sawick, stopped many from getting near the net. On offense, newcomer Emily Gothberg showed her quick footwork scoring the first Blazer goal of the season. Kayla Verheyen, Carly Borders, and Kelly Jazdzewski provided some solid passing for the team. Ann Jepsen, Joree Green and Maren Dixon also had drives to the goal but didn't see the back of the net.

The girls U-10 Blazers-White are coached by Mike Haining, Paul Verheyen, and Todd Gothberg.

The Warren United Blazers U-12 soccer team had a 1-1-1 record with Lake Forest White Stinger going into a muddy contest. If history were to repeat itself each team would score two or fewer goals, and something would happen early. In the first minute of play, Lake Forest out-raced three defenders and scored inside the far post. The Blazers regrouped and shut down LF for the rest of the half, but were unable to tie it up. Anastasia Leach, Kirsten Bohrmel, and Sarah Body anchored the midfield, and keeper Alicia Petro (five saves) battered down the hatches.

The first minute of the second half went the home team's way as Jenna Kuehl fed Emily Sanchez for the tying goal. The Blazers set each other up for better scoring chances in the half. Jordan Toler and Rachel Denenberg delivered great crosses with Denenberg's setting up the game-winning goal. Denenberg was wide right and crossed to Kuehl who fed it to Erin Mruz inside the 18 yard box. Mruz's shot caromed off the left upright favorably and made it in past the scrambling keeper. Lake Forest didn't give up, but the mid-field pressure of Katie Martin, Abbey Ramsey, and Amy Green held them in check. Bryn Grosskopf, Ellen Jepsen and Lauren Glogovsky were the last line of defense for Petro who needed to make only one strong save in the half. Glogovsky's non-goalie save with only minutes to play cemented the victory for the Blazers who are now 3-0 this season.

Goalkeeper Alicia Petro had a quiet first-half as she watched her teammates work during the Warren United U-12 Blazers' 2-0 home victory over Libertyville White. The Blazers took advantage of the wind and won the early time of possession battle with Libertyville White. Jenna Kuehl and Erin Mruz took the earliest shots on goal, but it was Emily Sanchez who scored first on an assist by Sarah Body. Kirsten Bohrmel fed a pass to Jordan Toler who tallied the second goal of the game.

The wind, the slight incline, and the solid mid and backfield efforts of Ellen Jepsen, Abbey Ramsey and Amy Green kept Libertyville's shots on goal to one in the half. But the visitors pushed back hard in the second half. Petro was put to work and was credited with eight saves in the half, including a strong leaping slap save. Bryn Grosskopf, Body and Bohrmel were instrumental in foiling breakaways to support Petro in her shutout effort. The Blazers were unable to pack much offensive punch early in the second half, but they regrouped and managed eight shots on goal in the last 15 minutes of play. Rebecca Taylor and Brittney Parker anchored that offensive effort with persistent feeds by Anastasia Leach, Katy Jackson and Lauren Glogovsky. The Blazer girls are 2-0.

And, the girls U-10 Blazer soccer team lost to the Lindenhurst Spirit 3-0. Laura Stark, Anne Jepsen and Nicole Sawick were busy in the backfield clearing out Spirit shots during the first half. Goalie Joree Green made nine saves.

During the second half the Blazers offense improved: Carly Border (3) and Maren Dixon (1) each getting shots on goal. Goalie Rebecca Taylor made six saves. The girls U-10 Blazers-White are coached by Mike Haining, Paul Verheyen, and Todd Gothberg.

Lake Zurich Soccer Assoc.

The U-10 (Division 5) GoalGirls of LZSA posted a 3-1 victory in their first game of the season. Robbie Wall, Jaclyn Migliarese and Theodora Papastratakos each scored a goal for the winners. Defensive standouts included Amanda Schmitz along with goalie Kristin Rock.

And, the Wolves U-7 (Division 7) boys team lost its opener by the same score, 3-1. Coach Bruce Watson said the entire team played great, especially considering they were only able to schedule one practice session before the opener.

College of Lake County Sports Roundup

Offense comes alive for Lady Lancers softball

By ROB BACKUS
Staff Reporter

The Lady Lancers, losers of nine of their last 11 games, were looking for a boost going into the Chaparral Invite at the College of DuPage.

"Our defense and pitching have been doing a good job all year," said head coach Sue Garcia. "But we've had trouble getting our bats to work."

Well the bats worked, to the tune of 37 runs in four games against Joliet, Blackhawk, Moraine Valley and DuPage, propelling CLC to a 3-1 record in the tournament.

In the first game of the tournament, the Lady Lancers scored 16 runs on 20 hits led by Brooke Pollard (3-for-4, a home run, two runs scored, 4 RBI) and Stacie Peterson (3-for-4, a home run, three runs, five RBI). Maggie Stewart (3-for-4, three runs, two RBI), Amy Springer

(3-for-3, one run, one RBI, two stolen bases) and Kaeleen O'Connell (3-for-3, three runs) also had outstanding games for CLC which won 16-0.

But most of the offense was unnecessary due to Pollard's first career no-hitter on the mound. She also struck out three and walked three in five innings.

In the second game of the tournament, CLC defeated Blackhawk, the number two team in the state, 11-4.

Tiffany Paddock got the win, giving up eight hits and four runs over seven innings while walking one and fanning one.

Kristen Pagano (4-for-4, two runs, two RBI) and Peterson (2-for-3, one run, one RBI) led the Lady Lancers.

In the third game, CLC suffered at setback, losing to Moraine Valley 14-6.

Paddock took the loss, surrendering 16 hits and 14 runs including 10 in the sixth inning.

Pollard was the lone offensive bright spot for CLC, going 2-for-3 with a run scored.

The final game of the tournament against DuPage was not only the most exciting, but also the most important for the Lady Lancers.

The game was scoreless after five innings when back to back triples by Springer and O'Connell and an RBI single by Tiffany Suurmeier with one out in the sixth inning put CLC up 2-0.

DuPage answered back with a run in the bottom of the sixth and was poised to tie the game when Pagano made the catch on a pop fly to center field and then threw the runner out at the plate for a double play.

The Lady Lancers scored two more runs in the top of the seventh on a Pollard home run, a Nancy Bleim double, a Springer single and an O'Connell sacrifice fly.

DuPage then had runners at the corners with no outs in the bottom of the seventh but two fly balls and a ground out ended the game.

This was a big weekend for us," said Garcia. "We beat the number two team in the state (Blackhawk) and nationally ranked DuPage."

Men's tennis

CLC's winless season (0-10, 0-2) continued after 9-0 losses to Judson College and Waubesa.

Against Judson, Andy Yarc played an outstanding match at No. 6 singles but lost 6-2, 6-4.

Against Waubesa, Dan Clarke and Dan O'Connell played a terrific match at No. 1 doubles but lost 6-1, 7-6 (9-7).

Baseball

CLC's double-header with Madison on April 19 may have gotten off on the wrong foot, but by the second game, the Lancers had made up for the first miscue.

Madison went ahead early in the first game, leading to a 4-2 victory over the Lancers. CLC was down 2-0 in the fourth inning when Chris Draska hit a 2-run homer after a Brett McCollum double, tying the game at two.

But Madison would get two more runs in the next inning for the games final score.

"We had opportunities in several innings to score some runs and put the pressure on them," Lancer coach Gene Hanson said. "Unfortunately things didn't work out."

Despite a decent performance, Chris Ramig was the losing pitcher, dropping his record to 3-3 on the year.

The Lancers came away victorious in the second game, winning 4-3.

When the seventh inning rolled around, CLC was down 3-2. McCollum doubled to lead off the inning. The next batter, Dave Paddock, walked and Draska hit a single to load the bases with nobody out.

The next two batters went down and it looked as if the Lancers would drop both games. However, Rick Trampke's single up the middle drove in the final two runs and CLC came away with another win, running their overall record to 28-9.

"That was definitely an outstanding game we played," Hanson said of his team's performance in the second game. "Madison was 34-6 coming into their double-header with us, so that was a pretty good team we beat."

News and Notes

The CLC athletic department has announced it has coaching openings for men's basketball, men's tennis, women's tennis and women's volleyball. Interested parties should contact Athletic Director Gene Hanson at 543-2046. Rob Backus and Mike Krizman contributed to this report.

COLLEGE SPORTS REPORT

AREA ATHLETES MAKING THE GRADE

Augustana College

Baseball

Former Antioch Sequoia Reggie Hughes belted an eighth-inning home run as the Viking baseball team bombed Millikin 12-2 in CCIW action. Hughes then smacked a three-run blast as the Vikings cruised past St. Ambrose 13-9. Former Mundelein Mustang Tony Nelson also joined the hit parade, collecting four on the afternoon. Earlier in the week, Nelson hit a sacrifice fly as Augustana downed North Park 8-2.

For the season, Nelson is batting .378 with two homers and 22 RBI. Meanwhile, Hughes has also recorded two round-trippers to go along with 19 RBI. The Vikes are 24-8 overall and 9-4 in the College Conference of Illinois & Wisconsin.

Elmhurst College

Former Wauconda Bulldog Ken Shipbaugh, a freshman third baseman for the Elmhurst College baseball team, has been honored as Player of the Week by the College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin (CCIW). The honor salutes Shipbaugh's play during the week of April 9-15, when the Bluejays faced College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin (CCIW) opponents Wheaton College and North Park University. It is the third time in just five weeks that an Elmhurst player has received the award.

Shipbaugh batted .600 for the week with six hits in 10 at-bats. He scored three runs, had two doubles, four bases on balls and a sacrifice bunt in helping the Bluejays go 3-1 during the week.

In a three-game series against North Park, he was 5-8 with two runs scored, three walks and a double. The Bluejays are now 16-11 overall and 8-4 in conference play, good for second place.

"Ken plays a huge role on our ball club for a freshman," Head Coach Clark Jones said. "He is a very good hitter and adds a lot of 'pop' to our lineup."

The son of Robert and Maureen Shipbaugh of McHenry, Shipbaugh was a four-year letterman at Wauconda High School, where he was an all-academic team honoree in both baseball and football.

The Bluejays are charter members of the CCIW and compete at the NCAA Division III level.

Men's track and field

Former Wauconda Bulldog and Island Lake resident John Hartmann automatically qualified for the NCAA Division III National Tournament after taking first-place at last week's Chicagoland Track and Field Championships. Hartmann's jump of 6-feet, 9.5 inches ranks him third on the Bluejays all-time list. As a team, the Bluejays finished placed fifth while the women's squad was 11th in the 16-team event.

Meanwhile, Al Connelly of Mundelein is a returning member of the men's track and field team. Connelly, a junior middle distance runner, is a computer science major.

This year, he earned all-conference honors in cross country after placing 11th. Connelly has thus far earned three varsity letters in cross country and two in track. He also voluntarily creates and updates the Elmhurst College track and cross country team web pages.

While at Mundelein High, Connelly participated in track and cross country.

He is the son of Joe and Rosa Connelly of Mundelein.

Joining Connelly is new track team member Peter Bebbler of Island Lake. Bebbler is also a graduate of Wauconda High School. He is a freshman pole vaulter. He competed in cross country and track during high school.

He is the son of Thomas and Mary Ellen Bebbler of Island Lake.

Carleton College (Northfield, Minn.)

Junior Rob Williams (Vernon Hills, Libertyville H.S.) finished sixth in the 100 yard dash in the first annual Lee Krough Invitational, hosted by Gustavus Adolphus College. His time of 11.07 seconds ranked the fifth fastest in the MIAC this season.

Meanwhile, teammate Jimmy Blair, a native of Libertyville and also a former Wildcat, was fourth in the steeplechase event with a time of 9:46.80.

Illinois Wesleyan University

IWU announced that 24 members have been inducted into the Order of Titans honorary for seniors during the university's annual Honors Day Ceremony earlier this month. Included were tennis player Nikk Ogrin (Waukegan, Carmel H.S.) and men's soccer team members Josh Shipley and Chris Wirsing, both of Grayslake.

Members of the coaching and physical education staff selected the new members on the basis of academic accomplishments, athletic contributions, and general citizenship. Order of Titans members receive lifetime passes to IWU home athletic events.

North Central College

Former Grant Bulldog and Ingleside native Megan Thomas is currently second on the women's softball team with a .406 batting average. Thomas also shares the team lead with 27 RBI. She also has one home run to her credit. For the season, the nationally-ranked Cardinals are 33-3 overall and 10-0 in the CCIW.

University of Wisconsin-Whitewater

The Warhawk men's track and field team finished fifth (71 points) in the 19-team Washington University (Missouri) Invitational. Antioch's Paul Arnold, a freshman, finished eighth in the long jump (19 feet, 10.5 inches).

William Penn University

Libertyville's Mike Osmund (junior, Libertyville H.S.) smacked a three-run triple to go along with an RBI single as the Statesmen men's baseball team cruised past Upper Iowa 14-1 in the second game of a doubleheader last weekend. The Statesmen improved to 14-12 overall and to 5-3 in the league. Upper Iowa fell to 13-11 overall and to 5-3 in the Iowa Conference. The Statesmen then lost a doubleheader to Coe College. Scores were 11-10 in game 1 and 14-12 in the nightcap. In the second game, Osmund reached on an error and later scored a run. For the two games, the Statesmen left a total of 24 batters on base, including 13 in the second game. Penn, coached by Mike Laird, dropped to 14-14 overall and 5-5 in league play.

Health Dept. offers family planning, prenatal clinics

The Lake County Health Department/Community Health Center offers a wide range of family planning and prenatal care services. The Health Department's Family Planning Clinic offers gynecological examinations, pregnancy tests, health and nutrition counseling and community resources. The clinic also offers counseling on birth control options and provides contraceptives.

The Health Department's Prenatal Program also offers services to pregnant women. Participants are encouraged to enter the program when they are 6-13 weeks pregnant. They receive nutrition counseling and education on maintaining a healthy pregnancy. Clients are assigned to providers who will manage their pregnancy and provide care during hospitalization.

A woman with a normal pregnancy will visit the Prenatal Program Clinic 13 times over the course of her pregnancy to help ensure her health and the health of her baby. During visits, women have their weight, blood pressure, and their baby's heartbeat checked. If complications arise, the patient is referred to the appropriate provider. After delivery, the mother returns to the clinic for postpartum care.

All Lake County residents are eligible to access these services. Fees for Family Planning services are assessed based on the services needed, with adjustments made depending on the individual or family income. Third party billing for Medicaid or Medicare is available. No one is denied services due to inability to pay. There is no charge for the Prenatal Program, but clients must qualify for Public Aid.

Services are provided at the following sites:

Belvidere Medical Building, 2400 Belvidere Rd., Waukegan.

10th St. Medical Building, 707 10th St., North Chicago.

Mid-Lakes Medical Building, 6 E. Main St., Round Lake Park

Northeast Satellite, 1819 27th St., Zion

Clinic times and days vary depending on the location. For more information or to schedule an appointment, call the Health Department at 360-6500, ext. 201 or 202.

Gov. Ryan announces grants for recreational trail projects

Governor George H. Ryan announced more than $1 million in grants to 14 communities and organizations for recreational trail development and maintenance projects.

"Trails are increasingly popular destinations in Illinois for everything from hiking and bicycle riding to snowmobiling and horseback riding," Ryan said. "Many of these projects expand and improve the wide variety of trails found in the state, including improved access in some locations for all-terrain vehicle and off-highway motorcycle riders."

"Funding for the grants is from two sources. The federally-funded Recreational Trails Program (RTP), administered by the Illinois Department of Natural Resources in cooperation with the Illinois Department of Transportation, provides up to 80 percent reimbursement for an approved project's cost. The Illinois Off-Highway Vehicle

Recreational Trails Program (OHV), funded through title fees paid by off-highway motorcycle and all-terrain vehicle owners, provided up to 100 percent reimbursement for approved project costs.

Application forms and more information on the RTP and OHV grant programs are available by contacting the IDNR Office of Grant Administration 524 S. Second St., Springfield, IL 62701-1787, by calling (217) 782-7481.

Listed below are some of the grant recipients:

Village of Lake Zurich (RTP), (Lake County) $101,800 to construct a 5 foot wide, 0.66 mile interpretive trail to provide public access to Oak Ridge Marsh. Development will include a parking area, electricity and lighting, a water fountain, benches and footbridges. The trail will also be open for cross-country skiing in season (Local contact: Vijay Gadde, 540-1759).

McHenry County Conservation District (RTP) (McHenry County) $24,000 to construct a 50 foot long by 10 foot wide bridge over Nippersink Creek in Glacial Park for use by snowmobiles and cross country skiers. (Local contact: John Kremer (815) 678-4431).

ATTENTION PET OWNERS WE DO NOT KNOWINGLY ACCEPT ADS FOR ANIMALS IN OUR FREE/GIVE AWAY COLUMN.

If you must give up your pet, please consider these facts.
 *Free animal ads suggest that there is something wrong with the animal, or that it has no value.
 *Some people who respond to these free animal ads are not reputable and are more concerned about making a profit than the animal.
 *Charging a fee to a potential pet owner confirms the responsibility of pet ownership for an entire lifetime of that pet. For more information, please contact the Humane Society.
